Job Aid Bill Clears Senate

Pentagon Raid Breaks Up Big Gambling Ring

35 Workers Under Arrest

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government agents Wednesday raided a $500,000-a-year numbers ring in the Pentagon and arrested 35 employes.

Joseph S. Bambacus, U. S. attorney for eastern Virginia, said the gambling operation was centered in the defense supply service, an Army agency that handles office supplies for the military departments.

He said some of the messengers who ride through the Pentagon corridors in bicycle carts picked up bets for the lottery.

"The significance of today's raid," Bambacus said, "is organized crime's ability to make such unbelievable inroads into the nerve center of our nation's defense establishment."

The federal prosecutor added this was not meant as any reflection on the Defense Department.

27 Take Part In Raid

Taking part in the noontime roundup were 27 U. S. marshals, Internal Revenue Service agents, and agents of the General Services Administration.

Bambacus said the raiders were equipped with photographs of the men they were seeking. All those involved in the operation, he said, were "confined to the laboring class element."

The prisoners, all Negroes, were described by Bambacus as "writers, managers and players" in the numbers operation. He estimated the annual gross of the operation at from $250,000 to $500,000 but said, "I'm satisfied it comes close to half a million."

One Prisoner Had $1,045

Eight of those arrested were charged with writing numbers and with nonpossession of the required $50 federal gambling stamp. Twenty-seven were charged with participating in a numbers game on federal property.

One of those taken in custody had $1,045 in cash, which the federal attorney said represented one day's receipts.

Bambacus indicated that federal officials first got wind of the operation about a year ago.

Cuba Says U.S. Steps Up Drive To Oust Castro

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Cuba put before the United Nations Wednesday a charge that the Kennedy administration is intensifying a U. S. campaign aimed at overthrowing Prime Minister Fidel Castro's revolutionary regime.

Raul Roa, Cuban foreign minister, made plain he was doing so in order to buttress Castro's Soviet-supported charges pending before the U. N. General Assembly that the United States is planning armed aggression against Cuba.

Roa sent a letter to Frederick H. Boland of Ireland, president of the assembly, linking the United States with an attack by an armed speedboat on the nationalized Texaco oil refinery at Santiago on Monday. Roa said one sailor was killed and several soldiers and civilians wounded in what he described as "an act of international political piracy."

The Cuban foreign minister hinted that the boat, similar to a U. S. naval torpedo boat, may have come from the U. S. naval base at Guantanamo. U. S. naval officials there denied it. Roa called the base "an active center of conspiracy, subversion and espionage against the Cuban government and people."

Roa said the incident was part of preparations by the United States for an invasion of Cuba, undertaken with the encouragement and support of President Kennedy.

He said that the Eisenhower administration had used such devices as armed violence, economic aggression and diplomatic harassment in a vain effort to topple Castro.

"The present administration," he added, "has not only followed the aggressive interventionist policy of its predecessor, but has quite openly intensified it, using the most spurious and arbitrary means at its disposal, in clear violation of the fundamental principles of the charters of the United Nations and the Organization of American States."

Jobless Pay Bill Reaches Senate Floor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation providing for an emergency extension of unemployment benefits cleared the Senate Finance Committee Wednesday and headed into a threatened floor fight over this question: How will it be paid for?

The Senate Committe adopted a major change in the financing arrangements by voting 11-2 to accept an amendment sponsored by Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va.

Byrd's amendment would require the employers in each state to pay the bill for that state's benefits.

Without waiting for the outcome, President Kennedy asked Congress to advance $1,008,000,000 to the Labor Department to finance the added benefits during the rest of the fiscal year ending June 30.

"In view of the urgent need to commence this program that would put into circulation about $1 billion of purchasing power to buy the necessities of life," a White House statement said, "the President is submitting the request for funds so that it can be considered simultaneously with the legislation."

The request was part of a $4 billion extra appropriation Kennedy sought for various programs.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana announced the jobless aid bill would be called up in the Senate Thursday provided the depressed areas aid bill is disposed of by then.

Under the legislation, an estimated $927 million in emergency payments would be made available to jobless persons who have been out of work so long they have used up their regular unemployment compensation rights.

As passed by the House two weeks ago the cost would be financed on a nationwide basis through a four-tenths of one per cent increase in the payroll tax in 1962 and 1963. The basic rate now is 3.1 per cent.

The increase would yield an estimated $984 million which would be used to reimburse the Treasury for money advanced to all the states to cover the emergency benefit payments.

Byrd argued this pooling method would federalize the entire system. He said 40 states would pay more in additional taxes than they would receive in benefits, while 10 big industrial states would gain under the House plan.

Cuban Embassy Staff In Hague Quits Castro

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP) —The Cuban ambassador to the Netherlands and his staff resigned Wednesday in protest against policies of Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Ambassador Ignacio Fiterre said in a telegram to the Cuban government the Castro regime "did not grant justice, freedom and democracy."

Miguel A. Campos, a counselor, and Mrs. Piedad Anduiza, an attache, resigned with Fiterre.

Fiterre has served here 14 months.

The Dutch Foreign Ministry said it had not been formally informed of the action.

Two members of the Cuban consulate in Rotterdam also were reported to have resigned.

The two, Leon Alberto Rodriguez and Marcelo Fraga, could not be reached for comment.

"We Want Jobs" Signs Greet Touring Goldberg

HIBBING, Minn. (AP)—Unemployed steel workers Wednesday waved "we want jobs" signs in the faces of Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and Minnesota Gov. Elmer L. Andersen.

About 50 persons, some coming 30 miles from Grand Rapids, Minn., greeted the officials as they arrived in this northeastern Minnesota city. Hibbing is in the heart of the Minnesota iron range, where inactivity at mines and steel plants has been a big reason for economic distress.

Some signs proclaimed, "Secretary Goldberg, we need help," and "Mr. Governor, what are you doing to help us?"

Goldberg is on a tour of economically distressed areas and Gov. Andersen, a Republican, accompanied the Democratic Cabinet officer on the Minnesota segment.

The sign-wavers followed the two officials as they walked into the Hibbing Junior College auditorium, where both spoke. About 1,200 persons filled the auditorium.

Before coming here, Goldberg spoke at Duluth, Minn., and heard about the plight of the unemployed in that port city, where ore is shipped. The iron range, Duluth and its neighbor, Superior, Wis., have an unemployment rate of about 13 per cent.

Nearly 400 persons jammed a hall at the Duluth Labor Temple. Goldberg and the governor were received warmly, but the unemployed spoke seriously of their problems. There was little joking or laughter.

About 10 persons spoke, summing up the feeling of the area's unemployed.

Premier Pulls S. Africa Out Of British Commonwealth

Rupture Comes In Dispute Over Racial Policies

LONDON (AP)—With a stern warning, South Africa decided Wednesday night to quit the British Commonwealth.

The rupture, threatening economic repercussions in the multiracial group of nations, came over South Africa's racial segregation policies.

The nation's white supremicist prime minister, Henrik Verwoerd, was quoted as telling a Commonwealth conference: "The proceedings at today's meeting which have obligated me to take this regrettable step, in my opinion, mark the beginning of the disintegration of the Commonwealth."

Blaming Asian-African members of the Commonwealth for raising the apartheid issue, Verwoerd mentioned India, Ghana, Malaya and Ceylon.

Blow To Macmillan

Verwoerd took the step when the other members insisted on their right to denounce South Africa's apartheid policy.

The decision came after three days of argument by the 11 prime ministers and presidents behind locked doors.

It was a bitter blow to Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan. Aware of the consequences of South Africa's withdrawal, Macmillan had toiled in and out of the conference to get a formula acceptable to everyone.

But three leaders of the opposition stood firm—Prime Ministers Nehru of India, John Diefenbaker of Canada and Tonku Abdul Rahman of Malaya.

No Recriminations

Verwoerd, a mild-mannered man of 60, made the announcement in a quiet way and no voices were raised from any side at the closed meeting.

South Africa's withdrawal means the end of its 30-year membership in the Commonwealth. Its association with Britain goes back more than 200 years—as settlement, colony, dominion and finally independent state under the British crown.

Only once before has a nation quit this unique international association, growing steadily as Britain frees more and more colonies of the old empire. Ireland left in 1949 because of bitterness engendered by its struggle for independence.

Harvard Prof Gets India Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy Wednesday chose J. Kenneth Galbraith, Harvard professor of economics, to be ambassador to India.

Galbraith, 52, born in Ontario, Canada, served during World War II as a deputy administrator of the Office of Price Administration and as a director of the U.S. Strategic Bombing Survey.

At present, Galbraith is the Paul M. Warburg professor of economics at Harvard University. His home is in Cambridge, Mass.

About 10 years ago Galbraith started teaching economic development at Harvard. His seminar on this subject has since been attended by a large number of students from Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Galbraith has served as an adviser to the governments of India, Pakistan and Ceylon. In recent years he has made a number of extended visits to this area.

He also has written extensively on various aspects of economic development in India and neighboring countries. Some of his writings on economic development have been published in India.

Lodge Is Appointed Magazine Consultant

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge, a newspaperman before he entered politics, was appointed Wednesday as general consultant to Time, Life and Fortune magazines. He will serve in the field of international relations.

James A. Linen, president of Time, Inc., said Lodge's appointment will become effective immediately and added: "He will work closely with Editor in Chief Henry R. Luce and Time, Inc.'s top management on a variety of missions of corporate concern both in the United States and abroad. He will also be accessible to publishers and editors for advice based on his long and deep experience with international problems."

Celebrating Early

Rep. Michael J. Kirwin, D-Ohio, left, host annually at a St. Patrick's Day party, welcomes President John F. Kennedy to his 1961 celebration held in Washington last night at the National Press Club. Others are unidentified. Rep. Kirwan each year invites members of Congress and other government figures to his party. This year it was held in advance of March 17 because of other commitments on that day. (AP Photofax)

President Kennedy Calls For Restraint In School Aid Debate

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy Wednesday appealed for restraint in the debate over federal aid to schools—public or private—in order to keep the nation and its religious groups united.

Kennedy said he hopes harmony will prevail "when the smoke is cleared" because harmony forms an important ingredient of national strength.

"So I am confident," he told his news conference, "that the people who are involved outside the government, and members of Congress and the administration, will attempt to conduct the discussion on this sensitive issue in such a way as to maintain the strength of the country and not divide it."

Kennedy promised "to do everything that I can" to cool off the controversy ignited by his proposal to distribute $2.3 billion of federal money among public grade and high schools only.

The President, a Roman Catholic, has declared grants or across-the-board loans to church-related schools would be unconstitutional. Leaders of the Catholic Church in the United States have charged Kennedy's program would discriminate against their schools. They recommended at least long-term, low-interest loans for nonpublic institutions.

Kennedy once more urged Congress to pass his education aid program before getting into the question of aid to private schools.

Kennedy mentioned increasing the minimum wage, providing medical care for the aged, fiscal responsibility and highway and farm bills as well as his school program.

"Powerful and well-organized interest groups" oppose them, he said, and have sought to give the impression that the opposition is widespread. But, added to support of his stand, the Gallup poll indicated most persons favor raising the minimum wage.

Discussing the economy, Ken- said the replacement of men by machines will continue to cause some unemployment in such industries as coal, steel and perhaps aviation. But he insisted the present rate of unemployment—6.8 per cent of the work force in February—is not one to live with.

"I hope that we can reduce it down to four per cent," he said, "but we are going to have to reduce it."

Kennedy reiterated his opposition to cutting the work week, as advocated by some labor unions, although he got a laugh by remarking that for himself he'd prefer a shorter week. High employment, five days and 40 hours a week, is traditional and essential to economic growth, he said.

Both manufacturers and unions, certainly the public, should be interested in maintaining an economy that can compete in the markets with other countries, Kennedy declared.

Regarding disarmament, Kennedy disclosed that the United States is now prepared to resume negotiations in August "at the latest." This government previously had suggested holding off until September, a move which reportedly prompted a charge of foot-dragging from Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

East-West general disarmament talks broke down when the Soviet Union walked out after the U2 plane episode last spring.

Quadruplet Girls Born In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (UPI —Quadruplet girls were born Wednesday night to Mrs. Arlene Cutaiar, 24, at the Delaware County Memorial Hospital in suburban Upper Darby.

The children, born seven weeks prematurely, were reported doing "fairly well" in isolettes. Mrs. Cutaiar, wife of a transportation company employe, has two other children.

The babies were delivered within seven minutes by Dr. Vernon Ellson, head of the obstetrics department of the hospital.

Disarm Talks Renewal Date Reported Set

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Adlai E. Stevenson said Wednesday night he thought the United States and the Soviet Union had "generally reached agreement as to the time" to resume disarmament negotiations. But he added that other details remained to be settled.

Stevenson, chief U. S. delegate to the United Nations, had an hour's private talk with Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko Wednesday at the Soviet U. N. mission on Park Ave.

Stevenson declined to tell reporters what time had been agreed upon to resume negotiations deadlocked since last June.

But other diplomats in a position to know said it was Aug. 1. President Kennedy told his Washington news conference the United States had offered to start negotiating in "August at the latest."

Stevenson, who now has called on Gromyko three times within 10 days, said he made tentative arrangements for another meeting Friday—and indicated this would be at U. S. delegation headquarters.

He said that still to be settled were 1. the makeup of the new negotiating body and 2. some principles for disarmament to be approved by the General Assembly at its current resumed session.

Stevenson spoke to correspondents after a meeting of the U. N. Security Council at which he presided and voted for an African-Asian resolution to investigate disorder in Angola.

At his news conference, Kennedy said the United States had speeded up its timetable for reviving the disarmament talks after Soviet Premier Khrushchev complained that the U. S. government was stalling.

Congo Premier Says U.N. Force No Longer Needed

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Joseph Ileo said Wednesday negotiations are under way to bring rebel Oriental Province into the proposed Congolese confederation.

He also told the United Nations there is no longer any need for an international military force in the Congo and said that U.N. reinforcements on the way would be better advised to stay home. The vanguard of an Indian contingent of 4,700 troops is scheduled to arrive Thursday.

(The New York Herald Tribune reported a vanguard of about 90 Indian troops reached Leopoldville by air Wednesday night despite a Congo government warning earlier that "blood would flow" if U.N. forces were brought in against its will.

(The Herald Tribune's Leopoldville dispatch added storm signals are now up following the U.N. action in defiance of the Leopoldville regime.

Asked if Congolese soldiers would do battle with the Indian arrivals, Premier Joseph Ileo replied: 'We shall see what happens. The necessary will be done.' "

(At the United Nations, the Ghana government in a statement said Joseph Kasavubu stopped being president of the Congo when he accepted the presidency of the proposed confederation. Ghana said Kasavubu's decision "requires urgent action by the United Nations.")

$394 Million For Hard-Hit Areas Voted

Measure Providing For Loans, Grants Now Goes To House

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday night passed President Kennedy's $394 million bill designed to bring new jobs to communities long suffering from depression.

The depressed areas bill cleared the Senate in almost exactly the form asked by the President.

The bill was approved by a roll call vote of 63-27.

It now goes to the House, where a banking subcommittee earlier Wednesday approved a similar bill. Leaders there hoped to get it through before the end of next week.

The measure appears to have more strength in the House this year than in the past. The House has cut down previous Senate versions substantially.

The bill would provide $300 million in loans and $94 million in grants to try to attract new job-making industries to distressed communities. Some funds also would be used to retain workers and make economic studies.

Big Victory For Douglas

Sen. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., its chief sponsor, said the bill was not an anti-recession measure.

Instead, Dougas said, it was aimed at providing a permanent solution to the pockets of chronic joblessness. Textile, coal and railroad towns in Pennsylvania and West Virginia were listed as examples.

The vote represented a big victory for Douglas, who has pushed such legislation since 1955. His bill has won Senate approval three times before. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower killed two of the bills with vetoes, and the third died in the House.

Some foes of the bill argued that the federal aid was too small to do much good and that it was arousing many false hopes over the country. They insisted that the hardest hit towns would need something besides the U.S. money to solve their problems.

Other opponents contended that the measure was breaking new round which the federal government should sun. They said the federal aid would create problems in some states by tilting the balance in favor of movement of industry into other states.

Anti-Pirating Provision

Douglas replied that the bill contains a strict anti-pirating provision. Use of funds to move a plant from one state to another is banned. The prohibition would not apply to aid for establishment of a branch in a new location.

Before approving the administration bill, the Senate rejected a Republican substitute offered by GOP leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois. His bill would have set up a $180 million program.

On a roll-call vote, the Senate rejected Dirksen's proposal 66-27.

Dirksen said he agreed depressed areas were a problem and something should be done to attract industry to them. But, he continued, a more modest approach, like his own, would give Congress a chance to see how the program works.

Angola Reform Move Rebuffed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The U. N. Security Council Wednesday night rejected an Asian-African resolution calling for reforms in Portuguese Angola despite support by both the United States and the Soviet Union.

The resolution received only five affirmative votes—two short of the seven required for approval in the 11-nation council. It was supported by its three sponsors—Liberia, Ceylon and the United Arab Republic—in addition to the two big powers.

In a dramatic move, U. S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson split with the Western Allies in the vote. Britain, France, Nationalist China, Turkey, Chile and Ecuador abstained.

Liberian Delegate George Padmore announced that he would take the issue immediately to the 99-nation General Assembly now in session.

The defeated resolution called upon Portugal to carry out previous U. N. resolutions urging respect for human rights in Angola. It also proposed a U. N. subcommittee to inquire into the situation in the Portuguese African territory.

Prominent Catholic Layman Disagrees With JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy and a lay Roman Catholic leader presented sharply conflicting views Wednesday on how and when the constitutionality of federal loans to parochial and other private schools should be tested.

John C. Hayes, president of the Council of Catholic Men, told a Senate Education subcommittee that loans to private schools should be tied into Kennedy's proposal for $2.3 billion in grants to public elementary and high schools over three years.

Hayes said the constitutional question could be tested quickly by putting into the legislation a provision authorizing any taxpayer to initiate a court suit.

Kennedy, at his news conference, stood firm in his stand that aid to parochial and other private schools below college level should be considered separately. First, he said, Congress should get the proposal for aid to public schools "out of the way," and he hopes that will happen.

Then, the President pledged, "I would be glad to have the departments of government participate" with Congress in considering the constitutionality of loans to church schools or of another proposal, tax exemption for parents for tuition to church schools.

While Kennedy has said he believes across-the-board loans to private schools are as unconstitutional as outright grants, he did not close the door to some sort of help to them.

His own stand, Kennedy said, will depend on what form of aid Congress might vote for private schools. He cautioned: "This matter should be examined carefully by Congress."

The President said there may be programs "which do not raise a constitutional question, which may be socially desirable; and there may be programs which do not raise a constitutional question which may be socially undesirable."

Former Laos Premier Off On 'Sales' Trip

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—Former Premier Souvanna Phouma of Laos left Wednesday on a world tour to sell a Communist-backed plan for a 14-nation conference to end the Laotian civil war.

Chances for an early peace were dimmed by the departure of the man widely regarded as the only possible arbiter in Laos and by his insistence on holding the conference while the fighting continues.

A representative of the pro-Western government in Vientiane said his side favors a different approach—forming a commission ing and stop foreign intervention as soon as possible. Vientiane prefers postponing any drawn-out negotiations until after the fighting stops.

Souvanna fled to Cambodia in December after soldiers of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan drove leftist forces from the Laotian capital of Vientiane.

Phoumi set up a pro-Western government under Premier Boun Oum. But pro-Communist rebels, backed and supplied by the Soviet Union, still regard Souvanna as legal premier.

Sabin Says Vaccine Price Tag Too High

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) —A price tag 10 times too high has been placed on oral polio vaccine by the U.S. Public Health Service, Dr. Albert B. Sabin declared Wednesday.

The developer of the vaccine in question based his assertion on information accompanying President Kennedy's request to Congress for a $1-million appropriation with which to purchase supplies of the live virus vaccine.

The $1 million would set up a reserve supply of approximately three million doses upon which state and local communities threatened by epidemics could draw without cost to them.

Kennedy Will Name D'Alesandro To Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy announced Wednesday his intention to appoint former mayor Thomas D'Alesandro Jr. of Baltimore as a member of the Federal Renegotiation Board.

The job, which pays $20,000 a year, calls for the studying of defense contracts to determine whether they should be revised downward.

This generally occurs after a defense item has gone into substantial production, resulting in lower cost to make it than originally estimated.

Rees Attorneys End Arguments In Retrial Move

BALTIMORE (AP) — Attorneys for Melvin Davis Rees Jr. concluded their arguments in U. S. District Court here Wednesday on motions asking a judgment of acquittal or a new trial for the convicted kidnap-slayer.

Chief District Judge Roszel C. Thomsen indicated he would file a written opinion on the motions sometime next week. He said he would probably pronounce sentence on the 32-year-old Hyattsville, Md. musician at the same time if the motions were denied.

Rees was convicted on Feb. 23 of kidnaping and killing Mrs. Mildred Jackson of Apple Grove, Va. and her five-year-old daughter, Susan. Their bodies were found on March 21, 1959, near Gambrills, Md. The entire Jackson family had vanished on Jan. 11 of that same year.

The bodies of Mrs. Jackson's Carroll V. Jackson Jr., 29, and another daughter, 1½, were found on March 4, 1959 in a shallow grave near Frederiicksburg, Va.

Defense attorney William J Evans contended in his arguments for a directed verdict of acquittal Wednesday that the government had not proved Mrs. Jackson and Susan were alive when they were transported across the Maryland-Virginia line. He said no substantial evidence had been presented to support that theory and "it is pure conjecture and presumption."

Government attorney Robert E. Cahill, in rebuttal, said that a button from the coat Mrs. Jackson wore, which had been found in a farmhouse some distance from the bodies, was substantial evidence that she was alive when she was brought to Gambrills.

Under the Lindbergh Kidnap Law, Rees could get a life sentence or any term of years. Under a life sentence, he would be eligible for parole in 15 years.

Ohio Youth Sought In Scissors-Slaying

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI) — Authorities Wednesday night set up road blocks in the Parkersburg area for an 18-year-old youth wanted in connection with the scissors-slaying of a Parkersburg woman storekeeper.

Police said a two-state alarm was issued for Roger Dean Wilson, Watertown, Ohio, who was reportedly last seen in a stolen 1946 black Chevrolet.

Authorities said the body of Mrs. De Light Sheppard, 37, was found in her bedroom about 6 p.m. Wednesday. They said she was stabbed in the ear with a pair of scissors which apparently penetrated her brain.

The body was found by Fred Cross who lived in an apartment over the store in which Mrs. Sheppard worked.

Authorities said witnesses reported seeing the Wilson youth around the store the past several days.

Seven Children Perish In Blaze

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Floyd left their three-room house late Tuesday night to do the family wash at a coin-operated laundry six miles away. When they returned, the home had burned to the ground and their seven children were dead.

The oldest child, 11-year-old Arnold Eugene Floyd, had told his parents he would stay awake, read a book and look after his brothers and sisters.

The charred bodies of all seven children were found in what had been a bedroom of the frame structure.

The victims, in addition to Arnold, were Sheila, 9; Kathy, 7; Wiley, 6; Roxy Ann, 4; Mona Lou, 3; and Glenn Douglas, 2.

France And Rebels Ready To Begin Talks

PARIS (UPI)—France informed the Algerian rebels Wednesday night that it is willing to begin formal peace talks to end the six-year-old civil war and settle the political future of that North African territory.

In Cairo an official Algerian rebel spokesman, commenting on the French announcement, said "The Algerian provisional (rebel) government is ready to enter immediate negotiations with France."

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MCCORMACK

NEW YORK (UPI) —Toni Wallace drives a different car nearly every day of the week.

She never goes more than 50 feet. Her top speed: three miles per hour.

Mrs. Wallace is the model on the NBC television series, "The Price Is Right." And her job is to wheel out the cars given as prizes.

"I've handled more than 700 different cars in four years," she said in an interview.

The cars have included all standard American and foreign makes. A few fall into the egg-beater category. For example — electric run-abouts, children's miniatures, antiques.

"We've also had a few untouchables," she said. "You know, big black sedans from the twenties."

Trickiest vehicle for Mrs. Wallace was an electric auto, a replica of one sold to the driving public around 1910.

"It had no steering wheel; just a stick," she said. "The gear shift was on the outside and a tiny button served as the throttle."

The most uncomfortable car was a professional racer.

"I nudged the gas ever so slightly and the car shot across the stage practically into the camera crew," she said.

Mrs. Wallace has managed, however, to get through four years of daily telecasts without so much as denting a fender.

Mrs. Wallace said women display less braggadocio than their husbands when it comes to driving.

"Men are apt to be over-confident," she said. "I've seen some men take risks no woman would dare."

Boosting her gender further, Mrs. Wallace said that women have more distractions than men when they settle behind the wheel.

Mrs. Wallace doesn't know about such driving first hand.

Her two children, as a matter of fact, will have to walk to school when the time comes.

"We live in mid-Manhattan," she said, "and don't own a car. It's much easier to take cabs."

Funds For Private School Buses Opposed

The Allegany County Board of Commissioners yesterday by unanimous vote decided to adopt a resolution which would oppose any use of county funds for the transportation of parochial or private school children by bus.

Commissioner John T. Mason brought up the matter and prefaced his motion by stating that he was making a stand on the controversial subject which arose recently.

Commissioner William A. Wilson seconded the motion and Commissioner John J. Rowan voted along with the other two men.

Report Fire Deaths

BOSTON (UPI) — Home fires killed more than 100 families in the United States and Canada last year, the National Fire Protection Association reported Tuesday.

Wall Street Views

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Are traders pausing to catch their breath after the furious stock market pace of recent weeks?

One observer, commenting on a decided drop in volume Monday, suggested this might be the case. The stock turnover rate, although still brisk, slackened again Tuesday.

In pondering the matter, the brokerage firm of Bache & Co., one of the nation's largest, put it this way in its daily market letter:

"This may indicate that some market followers have moved to the sidelines to reappraise the situation in view of the fact that little progress was made during the previous five sessions in spite of the huge activity."

If the Bache supposition was right, good reasons for the reappraising were cited by a neighboring broker, W. E. Hutton & Co., in an analysis of events of last week.

Hutton analyst L. O. Hooper said 683 issues posted gains, 665 suffered losses and 121 remained unchanged on a five-day volume of 29 million shares.

The number of new highs remained about the same as in recent weeks at 246 against 264 in the previous weeks and 235 two weeks earlier, Hooper said.

"Some stocks are in a vigorous uptrend, some are doing nothing and some are in a downtrend," he added. "We look for this mixed situation to continue.

"Recently there has been more of a vogue in low-priced issues. Normally such a vogue suggests a greater urge to speculate, and to speculate with more abandon."

The Bache attitude, basically, was that still latent vigor in the economy supports an underlying optimism—"While the turn is not yet evident the figures are obviously building."

Symington Wayne Buys Chicago Firm

SALISBURY (AP) — Symington Wayne Corp. has announced an agreement to purchase the business and assets of the Sherman-Klove Co. of Chicago for about $3 million.

Symington Wayne's general offices here said the acquisition is planned for early April, subject to approval of Sherman-Klove stockholders and other conditions.

The Chicago firm, founded in 1916, designs and manufactures hand tools. Its sales last year were about $4.5 million.

Symington Wayne, which manufactures gasoline pumps and allied equipment, said the new acquisition would be operated as a wholly owned subsidiary under its present management. Sherman-Klove President William J. McDonough will remain in that position.

Doom crabgrass the day you seed

One-day way to improve your lawn

It doesn't take hard work or expert skill to transform a frustrating lawn into a satisfying one. It doesn't even take a lot of time. In just one afternoon you can keep crabgrass from plaguing you again this year, and plant that better lawn you want. The answer to crabgrass is HALTS®. It lies in wait, kills crabgrass as it sprouts. Yet HALTS lets good grass sprout unharmed, so you can sow all-perennial Scotts seed the same day. Non-burning TURF BUILDER® completes the job, gives new and established grass the protein-building nutrition it needs to thrive.

Ask us about the Scotts guarantee... a better lawn or your money back!

Bring your lawn problems to our Lawn Program Advisors. They have the know-how and the experience to help you achieve the kind of lawn you want.

Auora Derham Elected Queen Of Re Temple

Re Temple, Daughters of the Nile, elected officers and honored a member at the meeting conducted by Mrs. Ethel Zimmerman Tuesday evening at the Ali Ghan Country Club.

The annual report of the budget and finance committee was given by Mrs. Sara Lindsay. Mrs. Ethel Apsey, reporting on the sewing for the year, announced articles valued at $643.86 were sent to the Shriner's Crippled Children Hospital in Philadelphia, which is the temple's project. They included slacks, toys, dresses, shirts, quilts, sheets, drapery sets, bedspreads and also 335 United States post cards, which the hospital requested so the children could write home. Besides the cards there were 180 articles sent.

Mrs. Auoro Derham was elected queen for the coming year; Mrs. Glady Close, princess royal; Mrs. Lindsay, princess tirzah; Mrs. Laura Vere Murray, princess badura; Mrs. Dorothea Wickard, princess recorder; and Mrs. Alice Brenneman, princess banker.

An open installation will be held March 18 at 8 p. m. at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Mrs. Alberta Treiber Hunter was honored with a surprise bridal shower on her recent mariage to Robert Hunter Jr., during the social hour following the meeting. Individual gifts were arranged on a table and the refreshment table was centered with a ceramic figurine, made by Mrs. Brenneman, which also was a gift to the bride.

Others attending were Mrs. Anna Reed, Mrs. Mildred Price, Mrs. Dorothy George, Mrs. Mary Earle, Mrs. Lillian Fazenbaker, Mrs. Mary Fisher, Mrs. Kathleen Clapper, Mrs. Bessie Chenowith, Mrs. Martha Saeler, Mrs. Hilda Schaffer, Mrs. Blanch Dunn, Mrs. Ella Crabbe, Mrs. Edith Miller, Mrs. Leah Rhodes, Mrs. Alma Boyd, Mrs. Janet Sheetz and Mrs. Ann Storm.

Bi-County Convention Plans Are Formulated

Plans for the bi-county convention were discussed at the meeting of the Allegany-Garrett County Ladies Auxiliary to the Volunteer Firemen's Association, held at Corriganville.

A welcome was extended by Mrs. Lola Burkett. Mrs. Nancy Growden, Bedford Road Auxiliary, presided and reported on the auxiliaries she instituted and the banquets she attended. The conference song was sung with Mrs. Alma Wilt, District 16, at the piano. Mrs. Constance Dayton, McCoole, offered prayer, and Mrs. Elda Schell, LaVale, called the roll. There were 82 members present, representing 16 auxiliaries: 10 officers and nine past president. Routine reports were given by Mrs. Wilt, Mrs. Joyce Kirk, Bowling Green, and the officers.

The latter announced the county convention will be held June 7 at the Bowling Green church. It was decided that registration will be at 9 and the meeting at 10, since the firemen will meet at 10 instead of 2. There will be recess at 11:30 for lunch and the meeting will resume at 1. A joint memorial service will be held at 4, dinner at 5 and the parade at 7:30. Dinner tickets will be distributed soon and reservations are to be made by April 10.

A request was made by Mrs. Dayton, that names of deceased members be submitted to her before the convention. Mrs. Nedra Nixon, Bowman's Addition, asked that auxiliary histories be sent to her before June. Mrs. Schell announced that anyone not receiving nomination slips and credentials notify her. They are to be returned before June. Anyone wishing to buy state pins and earrings is to call Mrs. Edna Hounshell, Cresaptown.

The next Allegany-Garrett executive meeting is to be held May 4 at Cresaptown fire hall, beginning at 8. Colors were retired by Mrs. Olive Long, Oldtown, and Mrs. Jane Davis, Barton. Mrs. Dayton offered the closing prayer. A social followed and refreshments were served.

Bridge Winners Are Announced

With a score of 134½, Mrs. William Fraley and Mrs. Norman Taylor were declared the women's pair champions of the Potomac Valley Bridge Club in Tuesday night's game at the Woman's Civic Club house. Ten tables were in play with the average 108.

Runnersup were Mrs. Ray Goetz, Miss Alice Stakem, 128; Mrs. Emmett Jones, Mrs. Frederick Puderbaugh, 126; Mrs. Milton Gerson, Miss Rose Jackson, 121½; Mrs. James Hugglestone, and Mrs. Bernard McGreevy, 119.

The master point game of the Western Maryland Bridge Association will be played at 8 tonight.

Curtis Gilpin Will Address East Side PTA

Curtis Gilpin, member of the faculty of Fort Hill High School who was an exchange teacher to Turkey, will be guest speaker at the meeting of East Side PTA tonight. Roy Manges will conduct the business session at 8 p. m.

Room visitation will be at 7:30. Home room mothers will sponsor a bake sale.

PLANNING PARTY—Seeking ways to entertain husbands, who will be honored at an Open House of the Woman's Civic Club, members of the hospitality committee are considering an unusual flower container, a golf bag. The party will be March 19 from 5 until 7 at the club house. Left to right are Mrs. George F. Garlitz, Mrs. E. A. Dashiell Sr., Mrs. Karl W. Bachman, Mrs. Emmett L. Jones, Jr., co-chairman and Mrs. Lawrence W. Brown, chairman. Mrs. William S. Jenkins is kneeling.

Civic Club Open House Sunday

The Woman's Civic Club will entertain husbands with an "Open House" Sunday from 5 until 7 at the club house. The Open House replaces the annual "Men's Night Reception."

Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, president, and Mrs. Merill R. Barnes, vice president, accompanied by their husbands, will receive the guests.

A feature of the entertainment will be a display of articles made by the art group during the year. Mrs. Arch M. Hutcheson is chairman.

The hospitality committee is in charge of arrangements. It consists of Mrs. Lawrence W. Brown, assisted by Mrs. Emmet L. Jones Jr., Mrs. Karl W. Bachman, Mrs. J. Russell Cook, Mrs. E. A. Dashiell Sr., Mrs. L. E. Daugherty, Mrs. Mary A. Deal, Mrs. Edward W. Dove, Mrs. Thomas B. Finan, Mrs. George F. Garlitz, Mrs. Robert Gerson, Mrs. William S. Jenkins, Mrs. Benjamin R. Lewis Jr., Mrs. Harry Lucas, Mrs. Raymond MacDonald, Mrs. R. C. Matlick, Mrs. Maurice Milberg, Mrs. John L. Ort and Mrs. David Sigel.

The communications committee, under the direction of Mrs. Russell Bortz, is contacting all members regarding attendance.

Personals

Mrs. Marie Chillinor, Bedford Road, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital, suffering with a broken foot sustained in a fall.

Mrs. Donald E. Smith, Berkeley Springs, W. Va., is a surgical patient in King's Daughters Hospital, Martinsburg. Mrs. Smith is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradye Dolly, Flintstone.

Bernard McGann, Oldtown Road, is a patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mrs. Mae Lible, Shriver Avenue, is a patient in Memorial Hospital.

Auxiliary Party To Be Tomorrow

A luncheon and card party will be held by the Sacred Heart Auxiliary tomorrow at 12:30 in the nurses home. Players are to bring their own cards.

Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Louis Lippold, PA 4-5723, or Mrs. John Glick, PA 2-1377, cocharimen.

Society Accepts EUB Comprehensive Plan

The Women's Society of World Service of First EUB Church voted to accept the new by-laws, whereby the women of the church will be organized in keeping with the comprehensive plan of the EUB church. Action was taken at the meeting Tuesday at the church. The society will be divided into three circles. Two evening groups will meet the second Tuesday of each month, beginning April 11. The afternoon group is to meet the second Wednesday, beginning April 12.

Selection of circle officers and leaders in the various work areas will be completed at those dates.

Officers of the society for the year beginning April 1 were elected. They are Mrs. E. E. Miller, president; Mrs. William Brake, vice president; Mrs. Ralph Isiminger, secretary; Mrs. William Knotts, treasurer.

Secretaries are Mrs. Edgar Shoemaker, spiritual life; Mrs. Bernice Wolford, missionary education; Mrs. John S. Cook Sr., Christian social relations; Mrs. J. H. Sommerkamp, local church activities; Mrs. Paul Getz youth work and Miss Charlotte Wolford, missionary education for children. The installation ceremony was conducted by Rev. E. E. Miller, D. D. During the business session the sewing project for the Quincy home and orphanage was announced by Mrs. Cook.

The program consisted of a study of the ecumencial movement, given by Mrs. Brake. She used a film strip, "The World in a Word," as a visual aid to understanding. The group sang, "The Church Is One Foundation." Mrs. Kenneth Moore read the Scripture and Mrs. Fred Boyd offered prayer.

The new executive committee will meet April 4 at 7 p. m. in the fellowship hall. A social hour followed the meeting and refreshments were served by Mrs. Brake, Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Cook and Mrs. D. W. Kerns.

Carpenter's Addition Homemakers Club will meet at 7:30 tonight at the home of Mrs. Paul Fisher.

Clubs Have Combined Program

A "Parents Night" program was presented at a combined meeting of the Golden Instruments and Happy Harmony junior music clubs. The theme was "Parade of American Music." The pledge to the flag was led by Vickie Yeargan. The group sang "America", accompanied at the piano by Natalie Gilbert, followed by the junior music club pledge and hymn.

Narrations on music clubs were given by Ann Vlachos and Charles Frederick. Helen Wilt spoke on composed American music. Charlene Rohman played "Happy Birthday to George Washington"; Jean Getty, "Musical Chairs"; Ann Vlachos, "Little White Butterfly"; Kathy Zimowski, "The Rosary"; Christopher Moore, "Starlight Waltz"; Helen Wilt, "Water Ballet"; Allison Washborn, accompanied by Helen Wilt played "From the Northland"; Vickie Yeargan, "The Garden Party"; Debra LaPeyre, "The Cat and the Bird," and "The Little Waltz"; Robert Brinsmade spoke on the folk and patriotic music.

Herbert Springer played "My Old Kentucky Home"; Charles Frederick, "Shortin' Bread"; Louise Wilt, "Red River Valley"; a trio composed of Christopher Little, James Avirett and William Trozzo played a melody of folk music. Michael Richardson played "Dixie"; and Natalie Golbert and Virginia Castelle, "Semper Fidelis."

The Happy Harmony part of the program included piano solos by Nancy Naughton, Rebecca Mills, Brenda Shires, Martha Robertson, Louise Smith, Margo King; a trumpet solo by James Taylor; and a flute and violin duet by Margo King and Martha Robertson. This group closed its portion of the program with the singing of two Stephen Foster songs, "Nellie Bly" and "Oh Boys, Carry Me Along." The two clubs combined to sing "God Bless America."

K Of C To Mark Mar. 17

A "Fun Night" program will be held by the Knights of Columbus for members and their friends Friday night. It will be held in the cocktail lounge, beginning at 9 p. m. James Collins is chairman.

Md. Homemaker Winner

Janice Lorraine Yates of Regina High School, Hyattsville, has been awarded the title of 1961 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow for Maryland, and will receive a $1,500 scholarship from General Mills. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Yates, Silver Spring, she will compete for the All-American title, April 13. The score on the original test and observation during the New York, Williamsburg and Washington tour, will be the basis for selecting the winner.

Miss Yates, whose father is a physicist, says her favorite subjects are mathematics and science, especially chemistry and physics. She is president of the school science club and has won prizes at the Prince Georges County Science Fair. In 1960 she received the science award granted by her school, and last summer attended the University of Maryland under a grant from the National Science Foundation. She also won a gold key award for a short story in a Scholastic magazine writing contest. Camping, hiking, sailing, canoeing, shooting and ice skating are her hobbies, though she also plays the piano and draws. She plans to major in physics or chemistry at St. Bonaventure University in New York.

To Hear Dr. Compton

"Looking at Other Cultures in the Far East" is the topic of the illustrated talk Dr. Lillian C. Compton will give at the meeting of the United Lutheran Church Women of St. Paul's Church tomorrow at 7:30 in the fellowship hall. Dr. Compton's address will concern observations she made in Japan, Hong Kong and India.

A graduate of State Teachers College, Towson, Dr. Compton received her AB from West Virginia University; her master's from Columbia and the honorary degree of doctor of laws from the University of Maryland. She was assistant superintendent of schools of Allegany County before becoming president of Frostburg State Teachers College.

Miss Margaret Beck will conduct the meeting. Circles seven and eight, with Miss Margaret Smith and Mrs. Bert Browne are in charge of arrangements.

Cresaptown 4-H Girls will meet at 4 today at the home of Mrs. Edith Lechliter.

ASSUME DUTIES — The Road Runners Kart Club elected officers at the meeting in the Bowling Green fire hall. They are, left to right, Elizabeth Pfeiffer, treasurer; Edgar Isner, vice president; James Young, president; Martha Young, secretary; George Pfeiffer, publicity manager; and Ronald Eversole, track manager. Anyone interested in joining the club may call Mrs. Young, PA 4-7472.

Christian Fellowship To Have Panel

The Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church will meet at the church tomorrow at 7:30. Miss Betty Lou Zembower will be worship leader. Her theme is "A More Excellent Way."

A study, "Together in Building" will be led by Miss Margaret Doak, developing the movement toward unity among the churches around the world, "to learn the part the disciples of Christ are playing." Taking part will be Mrs. Joseph Horevay, Mrs. Harold Frankhauser, Mrs. Ralph Burnette and Mrs. Arthur Howard.

Our Flag of Cumberland Council DofA will have initiatory work at 7:30 tonight at Junior Order hall.

A survey shows that 25 men out of every hundred wear hats sized 6⅞s.

Point-Of-Sale Beer Ad Limit Increase Debated

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — That beer sign in your neighborhood tavern stirred up considerable fuss here Wednesday.

The Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee took up a proposal to increase from $5 to $75 the permissible limit on the value of point-of-purchase advertising material.

M. A. Rappaport, chairman of the legislative committee for the Maryland Licensed Beverage Association, urged passage of the proposal.

Jerold Hoffberger, president of the National Brewing Co., and a director of Associated Brewers Inc., said any increase in the allowable limit "would work to the disadvantage of the consumer in the form of increased prices."

Sens. Frederick C. Malkus Jr., D-Dorchester, and John L. Sanford Jr., D-Worcester, took turns questioning Hoffberger.

"The more we raise prices and the closer we approach to the price of whisky and other alcoholic beverages with greater alcoholic content, the more we drive the consumer away from our product of moderation to that of the distillers," Hoffberger said.

"You mean you can't get drunk on your stuff," Sanford said. "Don't talk moderation when you talk about beer."

Malkus asked how long it has been since the tax on beer was increased.

Hoffberger said the tax was last raised in 1933.

Rappaport said Maryland is the only state with an advertising limit as low as $5. He pointed out, however, several states prohibit such advertising. Rappaport urged that the wholesalers "cut off a little of this television rumpus" and come out with nicer point-of-sale advertising for retail establishments.

Don Anderson of Schlitz Brewing Co. also appeared to support the bill. Anderson said the consumers would be happier with good point-of-sale advertising.

The bill was referred back to the judicial committee for further review after being favorably reported to the Senate floor.

State's Most Heavily Traveled Roads Listed

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pulaski Highway at the Baltimore City line was the most heavily traveled section of Maryland's road network last year.

A survey by the State Roads Commission indicates an average of 57,375 vehicles passed that point daily during 1960.

That location heads a list posted by the commission as the ten most heavily used sections. The others, in order, were:

Maryland 97, south of Wheaton; Maryland 150 at Essex; the Baltimore-Washington Expressway at the Washington line; Maryland 151 at the Baltimore City line; U. S. 29 at the Washington line; Alt.U.S. 240 at the Washington line; the Baltimore Harbor Tunnel Thruway; the Baltimore Beltway south of U. S. 1; and Maryland 542 at the Baltimore City line and Alt. U. S. 1 at the Washington line, which tied for tenth place.

News In Brief From Maryland

HEDGESVILLE, W. Va. (AP)—Health officials have warned residents of this Berkeley County community that infectious hepatitis has become a serious health hazard. Twenty-one cases were reported during the past year.

Mrs. O.T. Retier, county health nurse, told the Hedgesville Parent-Teacher Association that poor sanitary conditions undoubtedly were a contributing factor in the outbreak. While the health department oversees sanitation at public institutions, she said, citizens should make their own sanitary checks.

Hedgesville, which has several hundred inhabitants, is seven miles west of Martinsburg.

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 59-year-old golfer collapsed and died on the first green at Clifton Park golf course Wednesday. Police said the victim, August L. Volkert of Baltimore had been under treatment for a heart condition.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Two separate home robberies which netted more than $16,000 worth of valuables were under investigation by police in the Baltimore area Wednesday.

In the Baltimore County suburb of Ruxton, two young burglars stole $6,400 in clothing and jewelry and $79 in cash from the home of Miss Hazel Ann Fox.

Miss Fox was away at the time. Her house servant, Herman Gray, 79, said the two intruders threatened to kill him when he tried to stop them. The stolen goods included a $3,000 mink coat and two mink stoles valued at $1,250 and $600.

The other burglary, in North Baltimore, included $10,114 in household goods, including a quantity of silverware. The theft occurred at the home of Mrs. Helen Edmondson Smith, and was discovered by a son-in-law. Mrs. Smith was traveling in Europe at the time.

OXFORD, Md. (AP) — Funeral services were held Wednesday for Dr. Elmer E. Simpson of Oxford, a retired Chicago physician who had been a resident on Maryland's Eastern Shore since 1939.

Dr. Simpson, who would have been 95 on April 25, died at his home Tuesday. Before his retirement, Dr. Simpson was president of the staff of Englewood Memorial Hospital at Chicago.

BALTIMORE (AP)—Brig. Gen. Henry C. Stanwood, state director of selective service, was taken to Maryland General Hospital for observation Wednesday after he collapsed at his office, in the 5th Regiment Armory.

The retired Army officer, a native of Evanston, Ill., and a resident of Baltimore since 1914, was administrator of selective service in Maryland in World War II and was reappointed in 1948.

BALTIMORE (AP)—A 35-year-old woman was found shot to death Wednesday in a second floor rest room at the Dundalk branch of the Young's Men's Christian Association.

The woman, tentatively identified as Alice Jeanne Spittel, 35, was pronounced dead by Dr. Melvin Davis, Baltimore County medical examiner.

Dr. Davis said a bullet had penetrated her right temple. County police said a .22-caliber revolver was found beside the body.

SENSE OF DIRECTION

WILMINGTON, Del. (UPI) — Dixie, a 9-year-old cat, lost from its owners, headed for the next best place in town. It stopped at the home of Mrs. K. C. Johnson, head of the Welfare Committee of the Delaware Humane Association.

Delmarva Toll Road Proposed

DOVER, Del. (AP) — Gov. Elbert N. Carvel announced Wednesday he had sent letters to the governors of Maryland and Virginia proposing a toll turnpike along the Delmarva Peninsula from Cape Charles, Va., to the Delaware Memorial Bridge.

Carvel suggested the new interstate turnpike should be considered in connection with a bridge-tunnel complex linking Cape Charles and Norfolk. The tunnel construction is underway.

The governor told a press conference the Delmarva Peninsula was the most natural and direct route for north-south traffic. Carvel said a copy of his letter had been sent to Secretary of Commerce Luther M. Hodges.

Oyster Dredging Season Closes

CRISFIELD, Md. (AP)—Oyster dredging operations in the waters of Maryland ended at midnight Wednesday.

The dredging season closed after what watermen said was a very poor year. Severe ice conditions which developed on the bay after Christmas contributed to the poor season.

The slump came after the season got off to a favorable start and some shell stock is reported to have brought as high as $5.50 per bushel during mid-December.

Two Deaths Up Maryland 1961 Traffic Toll To 65

By The Associated Press

The 1961 Maryland highway death toll rose to 65 Wednesday, with the deaths of a 5-year-old boy and a 59-year-old woman in separate accidents at Baltimore.

The dead were Michael Frey, who was struck by a truck while playing with his wagon, and Mrs. Leona Wolff, whose car crashed over an embankment.

Police said the Frey child was playing in an alley when a truck rolled over him. He was dead on arrival at St. Agnes Hospital.

Authorities said Mrs. Wolff's brakes apparently failed as she was coming down a hill near Gwynns Falls. The car hurtled an embankment, flipped down a steep hill and came to rest in a stream.

In an accident Tuesday, a 17-year-old Prince Georges County youth was struck and killed by a car as he walked along Maryland 4 in Spaulding Heights, a suburb of Washington. The victim was William Everett Blair of Coral Hills.

Pan was the god of flocks, pastures and rural life.

Factory Employment Down By One Million

WASHINGTON (AP) —Factory employment was down by nearly one million last month compared with a year ago, the Labor Department reported Tuesday.

In a breakdown of the February employment situation, the department said one out of every 10 factory workers was unemployed. In the auto industry it was one out of four and in steel it was one out of six.

Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg announced a week ago that last month's unemployed totaled 5.7 million, the highest figure in 20 years. The number of employed, 64.6 million, was the highest ever reported for this time of year.

In Tuesday's report, Seymour Wolfbein, Labor Department manpower expert, said that while the job situation definitely worsened from January to February there now are some signs of possible improvement.

LOSING BATTLE — Firemen fought a losing battle yesterday in a blaze which destroyed the Norwood Hotel in Bridgeville, Pa., a small community about 15 miles from midtown Pittsburgh. All of the nearly score of occupants escaped. Damage estimates ranged from $75,000 to $100,000. (AP Photofax)

American Nazis Get Va. Charter

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The American Nazi Party became a Virginia company Tuesday.

Its application for a charter, submitted on a letterhead bearing a swastika and the slogan "the World Union of Free Enterprise-National Socialists," was approved by the State Corporation Commission.

The Nazis' goals, set forth in the charter, include "the gaining of political power in the United States by all legal means and elective processes" and "the education of the American public to suppressed facts concerning the Communist conspiracy to destroy us and the white race."

The directors are Lincoln Rockville, chairman, and Seth David Ryan, both of Arlington, and JV Kenneth Morgan of Alexandria. The party's offices are at Arlington.

Illinois Backs D.C. Vote

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Tuesday ratified a proposed amendment to the U. S. Constitution, giving District of Columbia residents the right to vote for President.

Production Of Cars Dropped Last Week

DETROIT (UPI) — Motor vehicle production in the United States last week totaled 113,557 units, the Automobile Manufacturers Association said Tuesday.

The AMA said the week's output included 91,314 passenger cars and 22,243 trucks. This compared with the previous week's total of 111,702 cars and 19,370 trucks and buses.

Output for the year through March 11 totaled 1,128,645 units, including 928,612 passengers cars, 199,453 trucks and 580 buses. In the same period last year, 1,905,758 vehicles were produced — 1,603,958 cars, 301,004 trucks and 795 buses.

Bedford Starts Reward In Arson Case

A reward fund drive has been launched in Bedford in that community's efforts to track down the arsonist believed to have set fire to the administrative office of Bedford High School March 6.

Investigation into the arson is being continued by the Bedford Police Department, the state fire investigator and an "expert" with the fire insurance underwriters, it was learned from police there today.

The fire caused extensive damage, and upon investigation authorities ruled that it was started by an arsonist. Police said today that no arrests have been made.

The reward fund was started by public-minded citizens of Bedford, and money contributed will be kept in escrow at the Hartley National Bank there under the charge of cashier Curtis O. Reighard.

Reighard stated that the minimum single contribution is $5, but anyone may contribute any amount over that.

He said the reward will go to the person or persons providing information leading to the arrest and prosecution of the arsonist.

Reighard stated that he has been assured by police that all information will be kept in strict confidence

Reighard added that in the event the arsonist is not found, the police department will advise them when to discontinue the fund and return money to contributors. Those donating will be given receipts and their names and amounts given recorded, Reighard said.

FALSE TEETH
Slipping or Irritating?
Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Penn Avenue PTA To Elect Officers

Penn Avenue Parent - Teacher Association officers for the 1961-62 school year will be nominated and elected at a meeting today at 7:30 p. m. at the school. The business meeting will be preceded half an hour by classroom visitation.

Plans for the PTA's spring festival will be discussed, and Lavern J. Hahn, music supervisor for public schools, will address the group on phases of school music.

Refreshments will be served.

Local Church Will Observe Anniversary

Rev. Dr. Harvey W. Black, president of the Pittsburgh Synod of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, will be the principal speaker at a service Sunday at 11 a.m. at St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church that will observe the 70th anniversary of the founding of St. Mark's.

Rev. Dr. Black, who has been president of the Pittsburgh Synod eight years, will speak on "Our Christian Heritage."

Following the worship service, a social hour will be held in Sunday School auditorium. Refreshments will be served and there will be a display of old church pictures and records, according to Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor.

A number of other events are being planned in observance of the anniversary celebration, Rev. Mr. Clapp said.

Born near Salisbury, N. C., Rev. Dr. Black graduated from Catawba College before entering Central Theological Seminary from where he received his doctor of divinity degree in 1928.

Rev. Dr. Black served as pastor of a number of churches in North Carolina before going to Latrobe, Pa., where he was pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed Church until being elected president of the Pittsburgh Synod. There are 130 churches in the synod.

Airline Claims Record Flight

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Riddle Airlines claimed that one of its planes completed a record nonstop commercial flight Tuesday from Tokyo to Chicago—a distance of 6,307 miles.

The airline said the DC7CF aircraft was on a routine military contract flight.

It said in an announcement here that the flight was made in about 20 and a half hours and broke a previous record of 4,660 miles from Havana to Madrid.

A Weighty Issue Left Unresolved

The American public—or at least that part of it that stays up late at night—was denied a great privilege this week. It didn't get to see the scheduled Great Debate between Ed Sullivan and Jack Paar. The debate, hastily but meticulously arranged, didn't come off. The prospective participants couldn't agree on ground rules. Later, they couldn't agree on whose fault it was that they couldn't agree.

Doubtless, had the debate taken place, great issues would have been resolved. It will be remembered—because it was only a week ago—that the whole thing started when Mr. Sullivan announced that he saw no reason why he should continue to pay top wages to entertainers on his show if they appeared on Mr. Paar's show at minimum prices. Whereupon Mr. Paar stoutly, if somewhat tearfully, defended his show, denounced Mr. Sullivan, and challenged him to a duel for ratings. Mr. Sullivan countered with an offer to debate with Mr. Paar on Paar's own show, provided the audience would not be packed. Accordingly, the two gladiators retired from the headlines ever so briefly, while their seconds worked out further arrangements for the great confrontation which was to take place Monday night.

Then, on Monday afternoon came the flash—the Great Debate was off, and Mr. Sullivan was saying Mr. Paar had welshed on the deal. Mr. Paar then called Mr. Sullivan a liar and invited him to sue, but Mr. Sullivan contented himself with a statement that the whole controversy had become "an abuse of the air waves" and that he wouldn't have any more to say about it.

Some had thought that, since the opposing candidates for the Presidency last fall had managed to agree on ground rules for the whole series of debates on television, then certainly two TV showmen should be able to do at least as well. But after all, Mr. Kennedy and Mr. Nixon were concerned only with such minor matters as what to do about Russia, Cuba, Red China, the Congo, the gold shortage, and winning the election. Neither of those fellows had to worry about such weighty issues as the Paar-Sullivan debate surely would have raised. And certainly, few politicians, even at campaign time, are anywhere near as touchy as entertainers.

Anyway, Monday night was the night of the Patterson-Johansson heavyweight championship fight, and perhaps one title fight was enough for one night.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What Is Inevitable?

One of the words that has become a stumbling block to logical thinking is "inevitable." What is inevitable and why? Was it inevitable that the United States should prefer Fidel Castro as a Communist dictator to Batista as a pro-American dictator? Were the Government of the United States ignorant as to the activities and associations of Castro, it might be said that it was inevitable that the State Department and the CIA should have fallen in love with his whiskers. But we now know that three American Ambassadors, Arthur Gardner, Robert Hill and Earl E. T. Smith, had warned their government concerning this man. We also know that a former American Ambassador, William D. Pawley, also made a study of Castro and warned against him. Pawley, however, acted on his own.

Therefore it was not inevitable that the Government of the United States should have been badly informed or that its evaluation of data should turn out, in this instance, as concerning China, Indonesia, French Indo-China, and other countries, to have been so wrong. Nor can it be said that we are not structurally arranged to discover the facts. This country's intelligence instruments are fully organized and perhaps even over-organized and we are spending billions of dollars annually to get our information and to influence other countries. Is it inevitable that we should fail because we do not understand other peoples?

Why should we not understand them? Perhaps it is because we assume that all peoples are fundamentally the same and that therefore given the same environmental conditions, the same impulses and compulsions, they will expand in an identical way. Nothing could be more ridiculous. Too many centuries have gone into the development of human differences. To believe that the emotional and intellectual responses of a Bantu are the same as the responses of a Britisher is a negation of the meaning of culture and civilization. It has taken centuries for the human being to learn how to use a knife and fork and in much of the world there are those who still use their fingers or teeth to tear their meat or to roll their kuzkuz.

Those who believe that we must "accommodate"—another tricky word—ourselves to the facts of life, such as, for instance, the continued existence of Red China and that it is "inevitable" that we should recognize Red China and provide a seat for its delegate to the Security Council, cynically regard all forms and stages of human culture as identical in essentials.

They ask why a small group of intellectuals can govern so numerous a people as the Chinese without permitting them to vote. But then the Chinese have never voted in their long history. They are accustomed to being conquered, their history being a rhythm of being conquered by outsiders since early times. The most recent conquerors, the Manchus, were defeated by a complex of forces after they had degenerated into licentious grafters who were controlled by Chinese who ultimately set them aside. I knew the last of the Manchu emperors who went by the name of Henry Pu-yi. He ultimately became a ward of the Japanese during their effort to conquer China. He was a nice, young fellow when I knew him but utterly without any capacity either to rule or to govern.

Although it was the intent of Dr. Sun Yat-sen who established the Republic of China to make it democratic and to be governed by a constitution, something like that of the United States, actually Yuan Shih-kai seized power, established a system of government by military tyrants known as Tuchuns. This system existed to some extent until the Communists took over.

I recite this only to bring out the fact that never, at any time, during their long history, have the Chinese ever held an election or have they ever had government by choice. That they did well during certain periods is due to other than political reasons.

Laos Crisis Balancing On A Razor's Edge

By Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

The past week's most important and indicative American events took place behind closed doors. On Thursday, at an unannounced White House conference, President Kennedy approved a long series of preparations for hard action to prevent Laos from being absorbed into the Communist bloc.

The occasion of the conference was the return for consultation of the U. S. Commander of the Pacific, Adm. Felt. With the exception of the Secretary of State Dean Rusk, who had to send a representative, virtually all the members of the Kennedy Administration's defense-and-foreign high command were present at this crucial meeting, which lasted for several hours.

Some of the decisions taken, such as the decision that it was urgent to provide the non-Communist forces in Laos with better means of transport and internal communication, can be counted on to produce immediate, open results. Other decisions, calling for practical preparations for much graver and sterner action, may not produce visible results in the end. The actions being prepared for may later be judged to be needless.

One must pray, in truth, that these actions prove to be needless. The details of the program for meeting the Communist threat to Laos are not known, and they had better not be known at this time. But it is clear that if the program has to be put into effect, the ensuing confrontation with the Soviets will be very grim and tense.

The program can only be discussed conditionally, as above, because the Laos crisis has now become a four-ringed circus. In one ring, the anti-Communist leader in Laos, Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, and the neutralist ex-prime minister, Prince Souvanna Phouma, have negotiated an apparent agreement to neutralize their country—with unpredictable results.

In another ring, situated in the wilds of Siberia, the U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn Thompson Jr., has been talking about Laos, as well as many other problems, with Nikita S. Khrushchev—reportedly with fairly encouraging results. In still another ring, the Communist forces in Laos are mounting what could be the previously predicted major offensive aimed at clear-cut military victory—with results that are disturbing but not yet clearly known.

As can be seen, the action in any single ring of this bizarre crisis-circus can either cancel out the action in the other rings, or greatly increase its meaning. For example, the upshot of the Phoumi-Souvanna and Thompson-Khrushchev talks can perhaps be a status for Laos like the present status of Cambodia. In that case, the conference at the White House and the offensive in Laos will both come to nothing in the end.

Contrariwise, if the Communist offensive achieves serious breakthroughs in Laos, the program approved at the White House conference will assume urgent significance. The Laos crisis, so much more potentially perilous than the better publicized places and the crises in the Congo, is in fact balancing at this moment on a razor's edge. Almost without warning, it can take a rather hopeful or a deeply somber direction.

This balancing act on a razor's edge is a pretty breathless business. It is not easy to think about anything but the short run results, when the future in Laos will quite certainly control the future of South East Asia and may also involve a choice between peace and war. For the long run, nonetheless, the strictly indicative character of the White House conference on Laos may prove to be its best remembered aspect.

What it indicates is the real character of President Kennedy's approach to the appalling problems he inherited from President Eisenhower. When Kennedy was confronted with responsibility for American policy in Laos, in the Congo, in Cuba, and in other, similar situations which have not yet reached the stage of open, acute crises, the new President might easily have taken refuge in the complaint: "This is a world I never made!"

In other words, Kennedy could have claimed that these situations had already gotten completely out of hand before he took office And he could therefore have argued that there was nothing left to do except, for instance, to adopt the British policy of politely concealed surrender in Laos.

Kennedy would not have been human if he had not been tempted to take this comfortable, politically easy course. How much he was tempted, none can say. At any rate, he temporized for a while, resorting to such devices as his proposal to make Malaya, Burma and Cambodia responsible for the future neutrality of Laos. By the beginning of last week, however, it was apparent that the temporizing devices could not be counted on to work, particularly in Laos.

The result was the White House conference. It indicates that Kennedy is prepared to be exceedingly tough, to sumbit to the harshest sort of test, in order to avert any great, potentially decisive upset in the precarious equilibrium between the two world blocs.

Inside Washington

By Henry Cathcart

SOCIAL LIFE—President Kennedy and his wife have revived the social activities in the White House which were drastically curtailed during much of the Eisenhower administration.

From the latter part of 1955, when Eisenhower was stricken with his serious heart attack, many of the traditional White House receptions were suspended. Even though Eisenhower's health was rated as excellent during the late 1950s, they were not renewed.

But in their brief White House tenure, the Kennedys already have hosted two formal receptions, one for Presidential appointees and their wives, the other for members of the diplomatic corps and their wives.

Next month there will be a White House reception for the members of the 87th Congress. Wives of the Senators and Congressmen are invited, too, of course. It is expected that Vice President and Mrs. Lyndon Johnson will stand in the receiving line with the President and First Lady.

It has been known that the Kennedys planned to step up the social life of the White House, but the speed of the action has caught Washington by surprise.

At the time of the birth of baby John Jr. Mrs. Kennedy's doctor warned that her health would make it necessary for her to enter into her new duties slowly. He set mid-year as the time for her to embark on a fully active official life.

However, in between her official duties, "Jackie" has been taking it especially easy. She has been spending much of her time at a rented country estate, Glen Ora, and recently returned to Palm Beach, Fla., without her husband or children, to shake off a cold which persisted because of the damp, inclement Washington weather.

Knowledge Of Family Diseases Important

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

It is wise to obtain information on diseases that run in your family because there may be something parents can do to protect their children from these disorders or delay their occurrence. There is no substitute for being forewarned.

Parents with a strong allergic background, for example, should be cautious about exposing their offspring to substances that usually cause hay fever, asthma, or hives.

Dust is a common offender and the house should be kept as clean as possible. In addition, it ought to be located in an area where the air is reasonably clean. Animal dander is another allergy precipitator, hence no dogs or cats. Among foods, watch the effects of milk, eggs, and chocolate. If the tot appears distressed by cow's milk, try soybean or other substitute.

There are many other allergens but they need not be the same as those to which the father or mother is sensitive. The allergic tendency is inherited, not a susceptibility to specific substances.

Rheumatic fever also runs in families. The exact cause is not known but, with few exceptions, the disease is preceeded by a group A hemolytic streptococcal infection. Sore throat, tonsilitis, and other respiratory infections should be treated promptly because illnesses caused by strep may trigger an attack of rheumatic fever.

It is difficult to know who is a candidate for this disease unless the child suffers one attack. To play safe, see that the youngsters in the family are not exposed to persons with colds.

Some families are prone to develop vascular diseases. They are plagued with heart attacks, high blood pressure, or strokes at an earlier age than the general population—often before age 50.

Accept the hereditary tendency as unavoidable and learn tranquility. This means control of the temper and the avoidance of unpleasant situations, stress, and anger. These people ought to be encouraged to take a job that allows more leisure and more frequent vacations.

TOMORROW: Morton's toe.

MOOT QUESTION

W. P. M. writes: My physician thinks so little of the cholesterol combating drugs he refused to prescribe them. Is medical opinion on their value divided?

REPLY

Yes. No one has proved that lowering the cholesterol level will prevent heart attacks or strokes.

EPILEPSY AND MEMORY

W. V. writes: Does epilepsy cause loss of memory or is this a superstition?

REPLY

A superstition. Victims cannot remember what happens during their blackout, hence cannot recall the event. Also, in the past sedatives made them too groggy to concentrate on what was going on.

COFFEE AND ANGINA

L. L. writes: Should tea and coffee be limited in a person with angina pectoris?

REPLY

Yes, but not eliminated entirely. Stimulants make the heart work harder and may increase the number of anginal attacks. Small amounts rarely aggravate the condition and there's not much fun to life when all pleasures are denied.

SNOW SHOVELING

Mrs. A. C. writes: Is it true shoveling snow creates a strain on the heart?

REPLY

Yes, but the normal heart can take this and much more strain.

To the limit of space questions pertinent to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

Venezuelan Minister Of Mines 'Big Bad Wolf' To Oil Companies

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The big bad wolf of Venezuela, according to American businessmen, is Dr. Juan Perez Alfonso, the Minister of Mines. When you talk to Dr. Perez Alfonso, he doesn't look like a wolf and he doesn't look bad. He appears to be a scholarly, mild-mannered, charming little man.

But American oil moguls will tell you, frankly though privately, that he has to go—or else.

Reason is that Perez Alfonso has refused to give any more concessions to the oil companies, has organized a government petroleum company to compete with them, finally, has organized the oil-producing countries, namely Saudi Arabia, Iran, Iraq, Kuwait and Venezuela into a cartel of their own. This is the equivalent of organizing the steelworkers into a union back in the days of Andrew Carnegie when the bloody homestead riots were caused by attempts to unionize.

On the other hand, Dr. Perez Alfonso has not moved to touch one oil rig owned by the oil companies. There has been no move toward confiscation, as once occurred in Mexico and so recently occurred in Cuba.

The oil dispute in Venezuela really gets down to the question of whether or not democracy will survive in that long dictator-dominated country. It's also the heart of the general problem throughout Latin America—namely, the conflict between big American investors and democratic government.

Most American businessmen in Venezuela are quite frank that they want Perez Jiminez, now in Miami, back. Under him they got tremendous concessions, low taxes, and police rule. But while American business loved him, Venezuelans didn't. And their awareness of American sentiment is one reason for anti-Americanism in the past. It's also the reason for Castro's popularity in some quarters. Finally, it's the reason why Vice President Nixon was mobbed and nearly killed.

In Exile In Washington

To get the facts in this vitally important dispute, I went to see "the big bad wolf of Venezuela," later talked to the Oil companies, later came back to see "The Wolf."

Perez Alfonso, the unpopular Minister of Mines, was born of one of the wealthiest families in Venezuela. His father always traveled by special train or in special cars. Some years ago Perez Alfonso paid $25,000 for a farm just outside the city limits of Caracas. While he was in exile in Washington during the Perez Jiminez dictatorship, the city grew up around his farm, and he received a cable offering $3,500,000. He wired back that he planned to keep the family homestead for himself but would give the rest to a foundation.

Perez Alfonso did not tell me this story. I learned it from others. But I did talk to him about his years in exile.

"I spent five years in Washington," he said. "It is a beautiful city and your people were most hospitable. I sent my boys to public schools—to Woodrow Wilson and Alice Deal schools, where they got along fine.

"Then they had to go to college which cost me more. My money by that time was getting low and I moved to Mexico where living is cheaper. One boy is now at Rensselaer and the other in Tulane University, studying law.

Jail Dreams

"We were in jail when we first dreamt of the idea of organizing the producing oil countries," Perez Alfonso told me. "The oil companies of the United States, England and the Netherlands have always had a common front. They stick together in arranging markets and fixing prices, so there's no reason why the Arabian countries and the Near East shouldn't work with Venezuela for a common front in regard to the production of oil.

"It took us a long time to get out of jail and out of exile to put across this dream. But we finally held a conference in Caracas and will hold one every six months from now on."

The oil companies wish that Perez Alfonso and his fellow exiles had never dreamed. But time passes slowly in prison cells. They're conducive to dreaming.

At any rate, the day when Dictator Perez Jiminez granted $800 million worth of proven oil land around Lake Maracaibo to the oil companies is now over, and the oil companies are now sulking in the large and efficient office buildings they have erected in Caracas.

They are not opposing the democracy of President Betancourt and they are not supporting it. They are remaining discreetly aloof. But their aloofness has the effect of giving the financial cold shoulder to Venezuela. For Wall Street takes its cue from the oil companies and with Shell and Creole pulling their development crews out of the country, Wall Street has turned thumbs down on any development money for the Betancourt government.

That's the way it stands and apparently will continue to stand until the ban against more oil concessions is lifted, in brief, until the big bad wolf of Venezuela goes. There is nothing official about this. It doesn't have to be official. The oil companies and the bankers speak the same language. And upon that language depends to a considerable extent the future of democracy in Venezuela.

Later I'll report on what the "big bad wolf" of Venezuela said about whether he would go or not when I saw him a second time.

Letters To The Editor

Sir:

Recently in a "Letter To The Editor," column of this paper, Mr. Helmuth Heise questioned my reporting of a meeting held in Garrett County, a few days before, concerning proposed liquor legislation for the county.

I wish to reply to his statements, point by point:

First of all, Mr. Heise said a great deal of misleading information was concentrated in one column.

To that charge, I answer that I truthfully and honestly reported the meeting as it happened, and where quotes were used they were absolutely true. I have talked with many folks who were there, and they have agreed that the reporting was factual and correct. Why, then the charge of misleading information?

Next, he says the meeting was to voice only one side of an opinion, and that no one in favor of the bill was invited.

Wrong again, Mr. Heise. Folks in every community were contacted by telephone concerning the meeting, regardless of their views on the subject. A cross section of this county would involve many and varied opinions on this or any other subject. In one particular case, a man well known for his favoring a liquor bill was called. Also, Mr. Elbert Buckel, who proposed the bill was called several times on the phone, and was urged to attend the meeting, which he refused to do. If he was convinced that this legislation would be good and beneficial for the county, why did he not attend the meeting and speak up for it? As a duly elected representative of our people, that is part of his job to clarify his stand on controversial legislation. The chairman of the committee, desiring to be fair to all, gave a special invitation to anyone who wished to speak for the bill to do so. This was a public meeting, word was sent to all parts of the county and there was an opportunity for any one to attend who cared to do so.

In the next paragraph he says, "Mrs. Glotfelty rambled on" about the bill being unwieldy and unworkable, and only an opening wedge for something else in the future. Those were the words of an Oakland attorney, who corroborated my reporting of his statements. Somehow, I do not think that a bill which suits the folks in Dorchester County or any other county in the state of Maryland would necessarily suit us in Garrett County. I happen to believe that we should judge for ourselves what we want in Garrett County. No one in Baltimore, Allegheny or any other county has a right to decide what we shall do or what we shall not do. We have a right to be different if we choose, and folks have said time and time again that they do not favor liquor legislation for this county.

Most of the folks thought the economic benefits would be negligible. I do not know the amount to be derived from the tax, neither would anyone else at this time. I have heard estimates based on other counties which would place the figure at about one-fourth of Mr. Heise's. These, I am sure are just guesses on everyone's part.

Now, he comes to the subject of taxes. We are all concerned about them. They are already high in this county, and I believe we should have large scale protests if they go any higher. Let me point out that every one attending the meeting were substantial taxpayers; farmers, business men, teachers, ministers, housewives, professional men. I am sure they are as concerned about taxes as Mr. Heise, or any of the proponents of the bill. They are also anxious for our county to make progress in every possible way.

I believe that our present laws should and could be enforced. I also believe that we have groups in the county that have a contempt for any law, and they would find ways to break liquor laws just like they are doing now with the beer laws.

I believe that our people have every right to express their opinions in any way they see fit, in public meetings or otherwise. The folks who favor the bill have the same right, and it was suggested that they do just that, showing all of us who they are. Folks are curious about the so-called business men's group, and they say that at least Mr. Heise has come out in public with his name, while it looks as if others are trying to persuade our legislators to take the rap for a bill the majority do not want.

We teach our children that the workings of democracy makes every one's vote important, and that in the final analysis, the majority rule is carried. In the last few years in this county, we have done just the opposite. In a referendum conducted some years ago, the majority voted against Daylight Savings Time for the county. Yet, we have it. I think it is high time we started speaking up on all our problems. Only then can we solve them and have the progress we all hope for in this county.

I notice on the part of the liquor folks a tendency to shout down anyone who happens to disagree with them. One writer said, "If you speak against liquor today, you are promptly labeled a Country Bumpkin." Mr. Heise, I do not consider myself worthy of that uncomplimentary label, neither do I consider my many friends who think as I do worthy of it. We want to see our county make progress in education, in economic growth, in all of the good things of life that make it pleasant and wholesome and good for all of us.

Judge Withholds Sentences In Breaking And Entering

Three young men entered guilty pleas in Circuit Court yesterday to charges of breaking and entering the Ray Larkin grocery and service station on the Oldtown Road last February 21.

They are William Foster Parker, 29, of the Oldtown section; and Carl R. Evans, 23 and James H. Harold, 21, both of Paw Paw.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris deferred passing sentence pending a report from James Lewis, state probation officer. Donald W. Mason, assistant state's attorney, outlined the facts in the case to the court.

Mason said that the trio had been drinking all day and late at night they drove up to the grocery and service station and after breaking the window of the door unlatched the lock and entered.

They took groceries, cigarets, shotgun and rifle shells and other merchandise valued at $655.17. In addition they took an account book which contained the listing of accounts totaling approximately $1,000, Mason said. This account book was thrown into the Potomac River near Berkeley Springs, he added.

The men drove to the home of a relative of one of them and cached the merchandise in the cellar. The owner of the home was in Florida on vacation at the time.

The three men were taken into custody the next day and practically the entire loot was recovered.

Earl E. Manges, defense attorney, told the court that none of the men has a police record as adults, but one of them was involved in a juvenile case when he was 18 years of age. He blamed their day-long drinking spree for the difficulty in which they find themselves.

Bids Asked For Thruway Section

A major project connected with the Cumberland Thruway will be provided under bids being asked by the State Roads Commission.

The bids, which will be opened at noon Tuesday, April 11, in the Baltimore offices of the commission, relate to the grading, draining and surfacing of U.S. 40 on Long Hill, the grading and draining of Route 395 (Nave's Crossroad) and the construction of a steel beam bridge atop Long Hill.

The grading, draining and surfacing of Long Hill will extend 1.383 miles eastward from a point .18 mile east of Willowbrook Road.

The Nave's Crossroad work will run from .15 mile southeast of its intersection with U.S. Route 220 to .09 mile northwest of U.S. Route 40, a distance of .45 mile.

The bridge will be a four-span structure and serve principally to connect the new highway with Hillcrest Drive, residential area atop Long Hill. The specifications call for the spans to be 37, 64, 72 and 29 feet in length, with a 30-foot roadway.

Escapee Picked Up

City Police Monday picked up a 15-year-old escapee from the Pruntytown (W.Va.) Training School.

Authorities said the youth was found hiding in a boxcar in the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad yards. He informed police he escaped March 1 and had been riding trains since that time.

Police said the youth also stated he hadn't eaten for a couple of days. Two officers went to a restaurant and purchased soup and sandwiches for the youth before he was taken to the Allegany County Detention Quarters.

Wiring Bid Accepted

The low bid of the Queen City Electric Company to install new wiring and lights for the women's section of Sylvan Retreat was accepted Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners.

The work will cost $2,660 and is being done to eliminate hazards pointed out by fire inspectors following a recent check of the institution. The Sterling Electric Company was the only other bidder but was higher than the Queen City firm.

GOP Lacks Candidate For Pittsburgh Mayor

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Republican organization has failed to find a candidate willing to run for mayor of Pittsburgh in the May primary.

The deadline for filing petitions for nomination was 4 p.m. Monday and the GOP organization had no one who would accept endorsement.

The present mayor is Joseph M. Barr, a Democrat. He will seek re-election.

Agree On Formula

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Nicaragua and Honduras agreed Monday on a formula to settle a long-standing border dispute.

The agreement was announced at a special session of the Council of the Organization of American States (OAS) by Ambassador Vicente Sanchez Gavito, president of the Inter - American Peace Commission. He said both countries had agreed "without reservation" to a settlement formula.

Apple Storage Plant Started At Paw Paw

Consolidated Orchard Company has broken ground on the construction of an addition to its main cold storage and packing plant at Paw Paw that will increase the firm's capacity by 30 per cent.

The extension of the cold storage facilities will allow space to accommodate 75,000 bushels of fruit and will bring the plant's total capacity to 250,000 bushels.

H. W. Miller, president of the company that has nearly half of its orchards in Allegany County and the remainder in Morgan and Hampshire counties, W. Va., said the addition will extend west from the present building to within a few feet of Lark Inn.

He pointed out that due to the expected increase in tonnage from several hundred acres of apple trees not yet in full bearing, it will be necessary to continue to expand the Paw Paw plant in the next few years.

The new structure is to be completed by August 25 in order to handle the 1961 crop, Miller said.

Major planning and engineering for the extended plant was done by Food Industries Research and Engineering Company of Yakima, Wash.

The general contractor is W. Harley Miller Company of Martinsburg and the successful bidder on the refrigeration equipment was the Frick Company of Waynesboro, Pa.

The cold storage and modern processing equipment at the Paw Paw plant allow fresh packing of apples nearly all months of the year.

Apples in Allegany County orchards are stored and packed at Paw Paw.

Bill On Industry Won't Effect County

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A bill given tentative approval by the Senate Wednesday would allow the State and its subdivisions to tax equipment and land leased by private industry from the federal or State governments, except in four counties.

Washington, Allegany, Montgomery and Anne Arundel counties are exempt from the bill as it was amended by the Senate Finance Committee and approved on second reading by the Senate.

Chief objectors at a January hearing on the bill were the Martin Co., Fairchild Engine and Aircraft Co. of Hagerstown, Westinghouse Corp. and ACF Industries.

They said the bill might look like "a luscious windfall" for the State and its county governments but would eventually drive industries out of Maryland.

It mainly would affect defense industries which lease tools and equipment directly from the federal government for manufacturing missiles, aircraft and other specialized equipment.

County Exempted From Welfare Bill

Maryland counties could set up public work projects for welfare recipients under a bill given tentative approval Wednesday by the Senate.

Sens. Charles M. See, R-Allegany, and Harry T. Phoebus, R-Somerset, had their counties exempted from the bill before it was endorsed.

The measure provides that healthy, employable welfare recipiients who refuse to work for the county may lose their welfare aid.

UCCE Chief Will Visit

George Grupp of Buffalo, N. Y., grand worthy chief of the Universal Craftsmen Council of Engineers, will make his official visit to Cumberland Council 53 tomorrow night.

Mr. Grupp will attend a meeting of the local council at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow at the Junior Order hall on Polk Street.

Wilmer Nunamaker, chief of the local council, asked that all members attend, as candidates will be initiated.

The organization works for the education and advancement of engineers through various programs, such as awarding of scholarships.

Police To Get Training In Firearms Here

Representatives of the Cumberland Police Department, Maryland State Police, Baltimore and Ohio and Western Maryland Railway police departments will meet here Friday, March 24, to discuss a firearms training program.

Police and Fire Commissioner Philmore Fleming and Police Chief B. Frank Gaffney pointed out yesterday that the combined training program is aimed primarily at familiarizing members of the local department with the use of the weapon they carry.

Because it is essential that policemen know their weapons, the training program will be held at the police department's firing range on Fort Hill adjacent to Constitution Park, they said.

There is a possibility a representative of the LaVale barracks will assist in instructing the policemen in the proper use of the weapons.

Tentative plans call for the awarding of medals to those who qualify as marksmen, sharpshooters or experts on the firing range.

It is also hoped that competitive firing will be held among local and state police as well as the railroad police. Trophies would be awarded to the high team. Four member teams would be formed for the competition.

After local police become advanced in firing practice they will probably compete with the state and railroad police.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, who attended the first meeting on the subject Tuesday night, promised that the State Police will gladly assist in the program.

The March 24 meeting has been set at the Public Safety Building here at 7 p. m.

Chief Gaffney said that others who attended the preliminary meeting were Sgt. John Newhouse, Officers Charles W. Thompson and Warren Brehm of the city department; Lt. Bernard F. Bealky of the Western Maryland Railway; Officer Paul M. Umberger, B&O; and Lt. O'Hara.

Army Unit Announces Promotion

A promotion and a re-enlistment were announced last night by Captain Forrest G. Boggs Jr. commanding officer of Company D, Third Battle Group, 34th Infantry, Army Reserve unit in Cumberland.

Sgt. John F. Campbell, 483 Goethe Street, has been promoted to staff sergeant. He has been a member of the company since February 1956. He joined the reserve unit as a recruit under the Reserve Forces Act of 1955 and served six months active duty at Fort Knox, Ky.

Captain Boggs said M/Sgt. William A. Brown of Ridgeley, first sergeant of the company, has reenlisted. Sergeant Brown has been active in the Reserve since 1948.

Several vacancies exist in the local unit for both veterans and those who have had no previous military service.

Those interested in joining Company D are asked to attend a meeting of the unit on Tuesday each week at 7:30 p. m.

The unit meets at the Army Reserve Armory at 219 Walnut Place.

Senate Enacts Railroad Bills

Two measures of interest to railroaders in the Cumberland area were enacted yesterday by the State Senate in Annapolis and will become law when they receive the signature of Governor J. Millard Tawes.

One of these measures, House Bill 451, which had been introduced last month by Delegate Carlton R. Sickles, Prince George's County Democrat, provides that the Public Service Commission shall require the installation and maintenance by railroads of electric marker lights on the rear of all cabooses in service and one electric light for clerical work within all cabooses in service. Installation of these facilities shall be made not later than June 1, 1965.

The second railroad bill, House Bill 194, was introduced by Delegate William Walsh of Allegany County and 15 others. It would increase from the present $25 to $100 per day the fine for non-compliance of a railroad with a Public Service Commission order to keep its rights-of-way clear of debris and weeds.

Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, chairman of the Allegany County Delegation, said that William Culbertson, legislative representative of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainman, was instrumental in leading the campaign in Annapolis for both bills.

St. Patrick's Plans Events

St. Patrick's parish is planning activities today and tomorrow in observance of St. Patrick's Day.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. J. Lawrence Kilkenny, pastor and rural dean of Western Maryland, said last night that a bazaar sponsored by Catholic Girls Central High School and St. Patrick's Elementary School will be held at the parish social center from 1 to 6 p.m. today.

The students and pupils will be given a holiday from classes tomorrow.

A mass in honor of St. Patrick, patron saint of the parish will be celebrated tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. with appropriate hymns being sung.

Tomorrow night the "Emerald Ball", sponsored by the Mothers Club of the parish, will begin at 9 p.m. at The Cumberland Country Club.

Two DES Staffers Join Job Surveyor

Miss Elizabeth Kennedy and Carl Steiner of the Department of Employment Security have joined George J. Widman, job analyst of the department, in making a job survey for the City of Cumberland.

Mr. Widman began his work at the City Hall February 28. Miss Kennedy will assist him by conducting office job interviews, and Mr. Steiner will interview outside workers.

Mr. Widman expects to complete his work here within two months and to have a report of the survey in the hands of the Mayor and Council by May 1.

Gov. Barron Vows Tax Jump Is Temporary

Extra Penny To Meet Emergencies

By CARLO J. SALZANO

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Gov. W. W. Barron said Wednesday he had "no intention" of going back on his earlier promise that he would not ask the Legislature to extend the temporary penny increase on the consumer sales tax beyond its expiration date.

Barron repeated his previous stand on the tax following published reports that a special session to re-enact the 3 per cent levy might be called.

"I have no intention of calling a special session to extend the consumer sales tax increase beyond Aug. 31," Barron said. "I made a pledge to the people that the extra penny would come off at the expiration date and I intend to keep that pledge."

However, Barron said, there always is a possibility of a need for a special session, "depending on what Congress does or does not do to alleviate distressed areas."

The tax increase was levied by the recently - adjourned 55th Legislature during the first few days of the session. It was designed to yield some $4.5 million through June 30 and $2.5 million through July and August for Barron's emergency employment program.

Half of the $4.5 million was appropriated for the State Road Commission, a quarter of it for the Conservation Commission and the remainder for the governor to distribute as he sees fit.

So far, Barron has allocated $544,147 of his $1.13 million. The Department of Public Assistance received $120,600 to expand its surplus food distribution program, the Finance and Administration Department received $27,000 for general cleanup work in and around the statehouse building and a total of $396,547 was allocated to the nine state-supported colleges and Marshall University and the state mental hospitals for general "housecleaning" job.

"The main thing now is to get the new Department of Commerce rolling," Barron said. "I hope to name the advisory board members early next week and a director soon afterwards."

"I also plan to take the advisory board and other industrial representatives with me to certain areas in southern West Virginia to inspect some of the smaller industries and see just what they have done for themselves," the governor said. "The idea is to determine what the department can do to help them expand."

The Legislature appropriated $2.5 million for the department, starting next July 1. Of that total, $2 million will be used by an industrial development authority to make loans for new-factory construction.

Keyser High Candidates For "Miss Hi-Times"

Candidates for the title of "Miss Hi-Times IX" were announced Wednesday by Frank Calemine, faculty advisor of the Keyser High School publications staff. The queen will be crowned during the intermission of the annual Hi-Times Dance, March 17 at the Loyal Order of Moose. Vying for the title are, (seated) Mary Ann Fallon, advertising manager of the Keyhisco, and Sue Wimer, assistant business manager of the Hi-Times; (standing) Wanda Parrill, assistant, sports editor; Cindy Welshonce, editor-in-chief of the Keyhisco; Peggy Oates, head typist and Jenny Temple, advertising manager of the Hi-Times. Beginning in 1953 those receiving the title were Katheryn Burgess; Ida Frances Ward, 1954; Joyce Boone, 1955; Delores Shrout, 1956; Jani Melody, 1957; Colleen Davis, 1958; Dolores Pezzanite, 1959; and Constance Mustoe, 1960.

Barron Pins Patriotism On Constituents

Insists Natives Respect Anthem

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—At the insistence of protocol-minded Gov. W. W. Barron, they played the "Star Spangled Banner" twice Wednesday at ceremonies honoring the old battleship USS West Virginia.

The first time around, Barron noticed that some men in the audience hadn't removed their hats, others hadn't placed their right hand over their heart in the best patriotic manner, and other continued smoking cigarettes.

When his turn came to speak, the usually mild - mannered governor, while stating that "I probably shouldn't say this," called attention to the lapses and asked that the Charleston High School band go through the anthem once again. Everyone acted his best this time and Barron was noticeably pleased.

Center of the ceremony outside the Statehouse was the mast of the West Virginia, which was put briefly on display before being trucked to Ripley later in the day. It is to be displayed in cities around the state before being placed permanently on the West Virginia University campus at Morgantown.

The West Virginia — sunk at Pearl Harbor, then raised and recommissioned for service throughout the Pacific war — is being scrapped at Bremerton, Wash.

Even before Wednesday's ceremony here, Barron had announced plans for a statewide campaign to foster patriotism and public displays of respect for the flag and other national emblems.

He went into action after brief remarks by officials of veterans organizations and Charleston Mayor John W. Shanklin. And he got results with his lecture on the posture and attitude citizens should have when the national anthem is played.

MISS JUDITH ANN JERZ

MISS CAROLYN BLOUGH

Two More Entries Announced In Annual Maple Festival Queen Competition

MEYERSDALE, Pa. — Miss Judith Ann Jerz of Shade-Central City Joint High School, Cairnbrook, and Miss Carolyn Blough of Jenner - Boswell - Jennerstown Joint High School, Boswell, will represent their respective schools in the contest for the title of Pennsylvania's Queen Maple XIV.

Sponsored annually by the Somerset County Maple Festival of Pa., Inc., the Maple Queen Contest will be held Wednesday, April 5 at 8 p. m. in Cochran Junior High School auditorium in Johnstown.

Coronation ceremonies for the 1961 Maple Queen will take place October 13-15 during the Fourteenth Annual Somerset County Maple Festival in Meyersdale. Included in the colorful ceremonies will be maids of honor, maple princesses, flower girls, train bearers and crown bearer.

Maple producers are expected to complete their "sugar water" gathering activities and the making of 100 percent pure maple syrup early in April. Presently they are in the midst of a productive maple season.

Maple Festival general chairman, H. Andrew Horchner, declared that thousands of city folks visit Somerset County maple groves each spring. In setting the Maple Festival dates for October, he emphasized that these people will then be able to see the maple groves in all their blazing color of fall.

Miss Jerz is the 17-year-old daughter of Mrs. Helen Jerz of Central City. She is five feet, four inches tall, weighs 120 pounds, has hazel eyes and auburn hair.

In school she is taking the commercial course. She is active in National Honor Society, mixed chorus, orchestra, girls' quartet, class play, Shadarrow, band majorette and senior class secretary.

For hobbies Miss Jerz enjoys playing the organ, singing, sketching faces, painting, composing poetry, walking, reading, growing flowers and dancing.

For her talent number in the Maple Queen Contest Miss Jerz will play her own arrangement of "A Trip Around the World" via Hammond organ medley. Her coaches and advisors are Miss Lucille M. Lehman and Mrs Thelma Estep.

After graduation in spring Miss Jerz plans to obtain secretarial work prior to furthering her education. She is a member of the Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church, where she is church organist, a member of the choir and confraternity.

In 1957 Miss Agnes Rose Oaks of Shade-Central City Joint High School was selected Pennsylvania's Queen Maple X.

Miss Carolyn Blough is a 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Blough of Boswell, R. D. 2. She stands five feet, three inches, weighs 105 pounds, has blue eyes and brown hair.

She is taking the academic course in school where she serves as class vice president. Miss Blough is also a member of the student council, National Honor Society, junior historian club and band. Her hobbies include swimming, water skiing, playing the piano and reading.

Miss Blough will present a piano solo, "Warsaw Concerto" by Richard Addinsell for her talent number at he Maple Queen Contest. Mrs. Ruby Haupt and Edward Kistler are serving as her coaches and advisors.

Following graduation from JBJ, Miss Blough plans to enter Pennsylvania State University. She is a member of St. James Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Miss Helen Kathleen Mills of Jenners served as Pennsylvania's Queen Maple IX. She also was a student of JBJ Joint High School.

KEYSER— John F. Somerville, Jr., commander of Keyser Legion Post No. 47, announced that the annual birthday party of the Legion will be held at the Post Home today at 6:30 p. m.

The party will be held in honor of the present and prospective Legion members in the area and particularly for the 600 former members of Post 41 residing in this area. The program is part of the membership drive presently being conducted by the local post. According to Mr. Somerville, approximately 200 members have been signed up with a goal of 300 in sight.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion will assist in serving the meal which will consist of ham and all the trimmings. Free beer will be served and a large turnout of approximately 200 people is expected.

Annual Easter Ball Arranged

KEYSER — The annual Easter Ball, sponsored by Phi Kappa Omega Fraternity and Kappa Delta Psi Sorority, has been set for March 25, in the college auditorium from 9 p. m. until midnight. The theme will be "Some Enchanted Evening" with music by Bob Stangle Combo, Cumberland.

Highlighting the dance will be the crowning of a King and Queen. The King will be selected by Kappa Delta Psi and the Queen by Phi Kappa Omega. Miss Kitty Sindy and Charles Tallman, last year's royalty, will bestow the honors.

Committees and members planning for the dance include: Dance —Richard Teacher, Albert Rockenstein and Willard Phillips. Favors—Nancy Pyles and Judy Alt. Refreshments— Jacqueline Kendall, Melva Ervin, and Karen Rhodes. Invitations — Janice Paugh and Joyce Kerr, and Decorations— Ruth Williams, Karen Rhodes and Judy Markley.

St. Peter's Plans Shamrock Dance

WESTERNPORT — The annual Shamrock dance sponsored by the junior class of St. Peters High School will be held in the school hall Friday from 9 p. m. to 12 midnight.

During the intermission a Shamrock Queen selected by the student body will be crowned.

Tickets for the dance may be obtained by calling Jean McBee, FL 9-6367.

Class Continues Bible Course

FROSTBURG — The Mary Martha Class of First English Baptist Church will meet Friday at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Melvin Duckworth, 21 Bowery Street.

Phyllis Lancaster will preside at the business session.

Mrs. Emily Stewart, teacher, will continue the study course on the Book of Revelation. Each member is asked to bring her Bible.

Elks Cancel Plans For Dance

FROSTBURG — Edward Farrell, exalted ruler of Frostburg Elks Lodge No. 470, announced the annual St. Patrick's Day dinner and 62nd anniversary celebration scheduled for Saturday will be a stag affair and not a dance as previously planned.

Harry Stegmaier, Cumberland, will speak and Miller Bowen will be master of ceremonies.

Expansion Or New Courthouse Urged

HAGERSTOWN (AP) — The Washington County grand jury called upon the Board of County Commissioners Tuesday to enlarge the county courthouse or build a new one.

"Inspection of the courthouse reveals immediate and urgent need for more space," the jury said in its report.

Members of the panel said the library flooring on the second floor of the structure is not strong enough to support the books.

The Washington County delegation to the General Assembly planned introduction of a bill to provide for a $1 million bond issue for expansion or rebuilding of the courthouse.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—If it's any consolation to Doris Day, I have received hundreds of letters from fans who feel she should have been nominated for an Academy Award for her performance in "Midnight Lace." Not that Doris has anything to worry about.

The most recent deal that Marty Melcher has on the fire is a plan to unite Doris and Perry Como in Ruth Flippen's "What Price Glorious," a comedy about TV. After a holiday in New York and talking to Como, Doris returns to Hollywood to get ready for "The Animal in Me," which is a part of her contract with Columbia.

Ace writer David Swift, who wrote and directed both "Pollyanna" and "The Parent Trap" for Walt Disney, has been signed by Sam Briskin for the same chores on Doris' movie. He'll work with Marty, of course, who, as always, is Doris' executive producer.

Rock Hudson, suffering with a bad cold, sounded very husky over the telephone when he told me that he starts "The Spiral Road" almost immediately. He seems to go from one movie into another.

In "Spiral Road," based on Jan de Hartog's book, he plays a young doctor in the Dutch East Indies, who saves many lives of sufferers of malaria. Burl Ives has just been signed by Universal-International for the role of the older doctor who has given his life to the natives. Robert Milligan, who directed Rock in "Come September," will do the directorial honors.

Much is happening at Columbia Studio these days. The most recent long-term contract was handed to Jonie Taps, who will be in charge of all musical operations. That includes musicals, records, and all the songs, of course, chosen for the motion pictures.

Well, Jonie knows what it's all about. He's been at this type of work for many years.

An enthusiastic letter from Connie Towers who is appearing at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington. She writes, "We saw wonderful Anna Maria Alberghetti in 'Carnival' and you are going to be very proud of her. She is a moving, thrilling Lili. Gower Champion (the director-choreographer) has really done a magnificent job of this one.

"Eugene (McGrath) and I are off for Panama this week. We are taking our son there for his first visit."

Eugene's family own extensive interests in this troubled part of the world and, believe me, from the TV shows of two of my favorite commentators, Chet Huntley and David Brinkley, it seems pretty safe in saying that Panamanians don't care much for us. Maybe they'll change.

If the Clark Gable baby to be born Monday, March 20, is a girl, her first dress will be made by Don Loper. He telephoned to ask me to let him know as soon as the baby is born so he can go right to work on something special for her. Well, Don, if it's a boy, how about an inverness cape?

Somehow, I have a hunch it's going to be a boy. Kay sounded so great when I talked with her, and I think it's safe to say few impending births have attracted as much interest as the Gable baby.

Group singing will be a feature of the entertainment.

Gets Vatican Post

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII has named Carlo Cardinal Confalonieri, 68, an Italian prelate, secretary of the Vatican Consistorial Congregation.

Real understanding and interest in others adds immensely to your charm-quotient.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Take An Interest In Others

One of the best tributes to charm that I've ever heard is a certain Latin-American expression that goes like this: One person says of another, "I like her. She makes me like myself."

Isn't that it exactly? Doesn't a charming person always make others like themselves?

Most people go through life expecting very little praise and appreciation. Hoping for it occasionally, perhaps but not expecting it. Anyone who sees good points that others miss is bound to be liked for indicating a special understanding. This does not mean that superficial compliments can win and hold another's liking, but it does mean that it's important to tune your thinking to the good in others, and sincerely and naturally, to let it show.

How often it is that we like a person we didn't think we'd take to at first, once we get to know him. This requires an open mind, but charm goes a step farther. For charm, there must be real interest and understatnding and a graceful way of expressing it. And this must apply to the more casual relationships with others as well as with friendships.

A fellow worker must be truly valued for his talents and accomplishment, a guest must be made to feel your wholehearted welcome to him as an individual, not merely as any guest, a person you're on speaking terms with only should see that you're glad to say hello.

The other person, in liking himself better, can't help but take a liking to you.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Ten of ♦

Untidy management of a side suit by the defenders gave declarer an opportunity to bring home a highly ambitious contract in somewhat dramatic style today.

West opened the ten of diamonds against four hearts. East cashed two tricks in that suit and shifted to the five of clubs. This defense was not well thought out. The club shift should come before the second diamond is cashed, for the opening lead marked declarer with the guarded queen of diamonds.

Declarer won the club trick with the king in dummy after West put up the queen. A heart lead to declarer's king was taken by West, who continued with a club, won by South's ace. There was nothing to the deal now if hearts would break; for a club could be discarded from dummy on the queen of diamonds and the two losers in the South hand ruffed with dummy's remaining trumps. However, the second lead of trumps revealed that other measures would have to be adopted.

Reference to the bidding convinced declarer that East held the king of spades beyond the peradventure of a doubt. He had thus far shown up with only five diamonds to the A-K-J. To consider a vulnerable overcall at the level of two without anything on the side would be a type of recklessness with which declarer was not willing to charge East.

On this basis, declarer could see that East was caught in the vises of a squeeze. The low diamond was ruffed with the jack of hearts in dummy, and the low trump was overtaken by South who proceeded to run all his top cards, reducing to the eight of clubs and a spade. East had his choice of discarding the jack of clubs or baring the king of spades. Since the discard of the club would be an obvious give-up, he properly let go the spade. But declarer was not to be taken in. He went up with the ace and brought in two spade tricks in fulfilment of the contract.

Had the defenders managed the club suit in such a fashion as to permit West to protect the suit with the queen, East would not have been caught in the squeeze. This does not, however, detract from South's alertness in taking advantage of the enemy's indiscretion.

Buys English Estate

LONDON (UPI)—A 1,372 acre estate in Surrey County outside London has been sold to New York Financier T.M. Evans. Evans, chairman of N.K. Porter and Co. of New York, bought the Ockham estate between Esher and Guilford. Purchase price was not disclosed, but it was believed to be about $420,000.

Since the introduction of music played over a loudspeaker system in a Los Angeles S.P.C.A. shelter, howling and barking have dropped 75 per cent.

Ann Landers . . .

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am 19 years old and going steady. My boy friend tells me I am unrealistic, immature, mid-Victorian, stubborn as a mule, and terribly inconsiderate of him.

He claims I must "prepare" for marriage if I expect to be a successful wife. According to him (and he's a psychology major) if a girl doesn't get some experience, marriage can be a shock.

He is very convincing, and it all makes sense while he says it, but something is holding me back. You seem to have all the answers. What's the answer to this one?

—DON'T KNOW

DEAR DON'T: Tell the psychology major that pregnancy before marriage can be more of a shock to a girl than marriage without experience.

And another shock that can result from going along with what he suggests is best illustrated by samples from today's mail:

"He said he loved me and I believed him. After I proved my love, he dropped me like a hot potato. I haven't seen him since." That one was from Toledo. Here's one from Kansas City:

"When he got what he wanted, he said 'I don't think I could ever marry a girl who gave herself before marriage. It would always be on my mind. Goodbye.'"

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Will you please say something to "Public Pluckers?"

These are the women (occasionally a man) who, under the guise of being helpful, will crook the little finger and painstakingly remove a microscopic speck of lint, or a stray hair off the shoulder of a victim—preferably in a room filled with people.

Last night this happened to me again, for the 100th time. I had all I could to do keep from blowing a gasket. The hostess stood there brushing—I can't imagine what—off my shoulders. It must have appeared to the guests that she was helping to rid me of some unsightly dandruff—or worse.

Maybe I'm a nut on the subject, because nobody seems to mind it but me. Is there a way to stop this?—B. B. O.

DEAR B. B. O.: I won't go so far as to say you're a nut, but your irritation is excessive. Some people, indeed, consider this little gesture one of solicitude.

You'll never be able to stop Public Pluckers because by the time you've been victimized, it's too late to complain. I suggest you reduce your hostility by joining their ranks. The moment someone does this to you, respond by removing an imaginary speck from HIS shoulder.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: My daughter is a sophomore in high school. She is very much interested in biology. At present her class is studying the hookworm, tapeworm, flukes and other parasites. She flatly refuses to eat meat unless it is burned to a crisp. She says people get worms from eating under-cooked meat. Is this true? I have never heard of it. Please print your answer because she won't believe me if I tell her. —DISTRESSED MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: People can get sick from eating under-cooked meat only if the meat is infected. Government inspectors do an excellent job of protecting the public against sub-standard products. It is wise, however, to cook all meat fairly well—especially pork—but it need not be burned to a crisp.

Are your parents too strict? You can benefit from the experiences of thousands of teen-agers if you write for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "How To Live With Your Parents," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Boros Headed For 3B Spot On Tiger Team

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

LAKELAND, Fla. — It would be natural, perhaps, for Steve Boros to wear the No. 1 jersey in the Tigers' camp here, for the young Michigan student is the No. 1 rookie hopeful and ticketed right now for the third base spot.

He comes highly recommended, and with a fine minor league background after he was signed for a $25,000 bonus back in June, 1957, right out of the University of Michigan where he is still studying for a history major.

As a bonus boy, Boros had to stay with the Tigers in 1957 but was seldom used. Since, he has been schooled at Charleston, Birmingham, Augusta and Denver, reaching the minor league spot last season at Denver where he hit .317, including 30 homers, and won Most Valuable Player honors.

An intelligent, rugged youth although he looks much smaller than his six feet height, Boros, son of a Flint, Mich., grocery-man, was a mediocre ball player in high school, admitting that "I had no confidence."

"Going to college built it up," he says, "and I credit my baseball development to my education."

Boros played American Legion baseball and while at Michigan worked out with the Tigers. It was Jack Tighe, former manager, who recommended the club get him although 14 other teams had made offers. Boros wanted to play with Detroit and never even contacted the other clubs.

$20,000 Open Gets Underway Today

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Gary Player, leading money winner on the 1961 pro golf tour, has a chance to increase his margin as the 26th renewal of the $20,000 St. Petersburg Open starts Thursday over the 6,290-yard par 36-35—71 Pasadena Course.

Player's nearest rival, Arnold Palmer, is not competing in the St. Petersburg event, which has lured 14 of the leading 20 money winners, including such stars as Doug Sanders, Ken Venturi, Bob Rosburg, Bob Goalby, Billy Casper, Jay Hebert and Art Wall Jr.

Defending champion George Bayer also is competing.

Player has played every round of the 10 tournaments to date this year, and has collected $19,904 in prize money. He won only one event, but finished in the top five five times.

Palmer has played in only nine tournaments, but won three of them and finished in the top five five times to collect $18,957.

Palmer, who set a money-winning record of $75,262 in official PGA events last year, has averaged 69.40 strokes for the 35 rounds he has played. Player's average is 69.56 for his 41 rounds. The stocky South African with the compact swing has been in the 60s in 22 of his rounds. Palmer has broken 70 in 18 rounds.

With favorable weather some exceptional scoring can be expected over the comparatively short course. E. J. (Dutch) Harrison holds the record of 266 for this tournament, set in 1953.

Two Games To Open NIT In New York

Small College Play Begins In Evanston With Four Contests

By The Associated Press

The opening doubleheader in the National Invitational Tournament (NIT) and quarter-final games in the National Collegiate (NCAA) Small College Tournament throws the post-season college basketball playoffs into full swing Thursday.

Meanwhile, the NAIA small college event is moving toward its Saturday climax at Kansas City and the NCAA Major College Tournament, the blue ribbon championship of champions, is preparing for a weekend decision on the four regional winners.

St. Louis (18-8) plays Miami of Florida (19-6) in the NIT opener at Madison Square Garden at 7:30 p.m. (EST). This game will be followed by a game between Detroit (18-8) and Holy Cross (18-4).

Bracket Completed Saturday

The quarter-final bracket will be completed Saturday afternoon when Army (17-6) meets Temple (19-6) and DePaul (17-7) faces Providence (20-5).

The NIT continues until March 25 when the champion will be crowned. Favored teams are Dayton (19-7), Memphis State (20-2), Niagara (14-4) and Colorado State (17-7), all of whom drew first round byes.

After preliminary games last week-end, Wittenberg (22-4) and South Dakota State (19-5) have established themselves as favorites in the NCAA small college tournament at Evansville, Ind., where quarter-finals are slated Thursday, semifinals Friday and finals Saturday.

Wittenberg's opponent is Williams (22-2), South Dakota State plays Santa Barbara (20-7). In other games, Austin Peay (22-8) meets Mt. St. Mary's (25-3) and Chicago (19-3) opposes Southeast Missouri (23-2).

Games Wednesday night reduced the NCAA major college field to 16 teams. These will gather at four regional centers Friday and Saturday to determine the four semifinalists for the championship windup at Kansas City March 24-25.

The regional playoffs will be at Charlotte, N.C.; Louisville, Ky., Lawrence, Kan., and Portland, Ore.

Buckeyes Heavy Favorite

Unbeaten Ohio State, spearheaded by All-America Jerry Lucas, is heavily favored to win its second straight NCAA crown and keep alive an unbeaten streak which has extended to 29 games over two seasons.

The Buckeyes, unanimous pick in the Associated Press poll for No. 1 ranking, play Louisville (20-7) in the opening game of the Mid-East regionals at Louisville. In the other game there, Kentucky (18-8) opposes Morehead (19-10).

In the Charlotte Eastern regional, Princeton (18-6) meets St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania (22-4) and St. Bonaventure (23-3) faces Wake Forest (18-10).

In the Mid-West regionals at Lawrence, Cincinnati, (23-3) No. 2 team in the country, plays Texas Tech (15-9) and Kansas State (21-4) opposes the winner of the Houston (16-9)-Marquette (16-10) game.

At Portland, Utah (21-6) plays Loyola of California (19-6) while the other bracket had to await the outcome of two games Arizona State U. (21-5) vs. Seattle (18-7) and Southern California (20-6) vs. Oregon (15-11).

Pirates Sign Five To Minor Pacts

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — The Pittsburgh Pirates announced Wednesday that they had signed five players to minor league contracts, including two pitchers, a catcher, a catcher-outfielder and an infielder-outfielder.

Pitcher Arthur Louis Calvert, 18, Seguin, Tex., was signed to a Hobbs, N. Mex., contract, and Brad C. Leach, Storrs, Conn., pitcher, was assigned to Asheville in the Sally League.

Don Sledge, Gaston, N. C., was signed to a Batavia, N. Y., pact as an outfielder - catcher. Richard Lee Booker, 18, Brookneal, Va., a catcher, and George Tucker Jones, 18, Hampton, Va., third-baseman-outfielder, were both assigned to Dubuque, Iowa in the Midwest League.

Bowl Game May Be Discontinued

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (UPI)—The L-K Bowl football game apparently will be dropped, at least for this year.

The directors of the Parkersburg Junior Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the game last year, has voted in favor of discontinuing the game between all-star teams of the northern and southern ends of the Little Kanawha Conference.

The first government employment bureau was established in Paris, France, in 1843.

Cooper Set For Title Go

British Champ Hopes To Meet Patterson

LONDON (AP)—Henry Cooper served notice Wednesday that he is ready to meet Floyd Patterson any time the heavyweight champion is ready.

"I want this chance more than anything," the 26-year-old British titleholder said after being told he is high on the priority list for the next crack at Patterson's crown. "The way I feel about it, I know I can bring credit to the British nation."

Already Britons are dreaming of winning the most coveted honor in boxing. They haven't had a heavyweight champion since Bob Fitzsimmons back in the 1890s.

Hope of a Patterson-Cooper fight this summer rose Wednesday when Jim Wicks, Cooper's manager, said he had received an offer from Los Angeles promoter George Parnassus to hold the bout in the West Coast city.

Wicks immediately cabled back: "OK for Cooper. Await your terms."

Patterson, in announcing Tuesday plans to defend his title this summer, specified that he wanted to fight for Feature Sports Inc., who promoted Monday night's show at Miami Beach, Fla. Also he said the next bout probably would be in New York.

The one-time plasterer has been British champion since January, 1959. He has won his last seven fights, beating such men as Zora Folley and Argentina's Alex Miteff. He is ranked fifth in the list of contenders. Since he turned pro in 1954, he has won 23 of his 30 bouts.

Winston-Salem Trips State, 86-76

KANSAS CITY (UPI)— West Virginia State was eliminated from the NAIA basketball tournament Wednesday, 86-76, by ninth-ranked Winston-Salem Teachers, 86-76.

The Rams from North Carolina jumped off to an early 10-point lead and although West Virginia pulled even several times in the first half, Winston held a 45-39 advantage at intermission.

However, the Yellow Jackets then fell apart and Winston reeled off eight consecutive points for an 80-64 lead that iced it.

Lefevre led all scorers with 26 points. Cleo Hill led Winston with 25.

St. Mark's Wins Overtime Game, 43-42

First Methodist, Melvin Advance

St. Mark's edged Salvation Army, 43-42, in an overtime battle to advance into the semi-finals of the National Division in the YMCA Sunday School Basketball League playoffs last night on the Y court.

St. Mark's thus joins Trinity Methodist who won Tuesday night and First Methodist which defeated First Baptist last night, 35-27, in the second round of play on Saturday.

In an American Division encounter last night Melvin Methodist downed Kingsley Methodist, 34-27, and will meet First Presbyterian in a semi-final clash on Saturday. Grace Baptist's pennant winners also have advanced into the semi-finals in the American Division.

In the nightcap of last night's tripleheader, Salvation Army rallied in the last quarter to tie St. Mark's, 39-39, and sent the game into an extra period. A goal by Schroyer gave St. Mark's the victory in the extra heat.

Melvin Methodist earned the right to play First Presbyterian by converting 18 of 37 foul shots in its victory over Kingsley. The latter outgoaled Melvin, 10-8, but had only 7-16 free throws.

In last night's opener, Doug Arrowood, the league's leading scorer, hooped only 12 points after averaging over 20 for the year, but still led First Methodist into the semi-finals.

Tonight's contests pit Park Place against LaVale Methodist in an American Division encounter at 7 p. m., while First E.U.B., National Division champs, meet Second Baptist in the nightcap at 8 o'clock. The lineups:

Senators Whip Baltimore, 6-4

Joe Hicks Clouts Pair Of Home Runs

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Joe Hicks clouted a pair of homers producing four runs as the Washington Senators stood off a belated Baltimore rally and defeated the Orioles 6-4 Wednesday.

It was Washington's fourth Grapefruit League triumph in five starts and the winless Birds' fourth straight exhibition setback.

Hicks hit a 375-foot homer off left-hander Billy Hoeft in the fourth inning. His second, off Wes Stock, caromed off the right centerfield scoreboard some 400 feet away with two aboard in the fifth.

Barry Shetrone, Brooks Robinson and Jim Gentile each connected safely twice in an 11-hit Baltimore offensive against the veteran right-handers, Dick Donovan and Tom Sturdivant. Marty Keough contributed three of the winners' blows, one a double.

Official Films Show Johansson Down At Count

NEW YORK (AP)—Was Ingemar Johansson up before the count of 10? The films say no.

Ingo, the beaten challenger, thinks he made it. So do many others who saw the controversial knockout at Miami Beach Monday night.

Floyd Patterson, the victorious champion, has no opinion on the dispute.

Referee Billy Regan and knockdown timekeeper Scotty Land were, and are, adamant. Johansson failed to regain his feet in time after being felled by Patterson late in the sixth round, according to these two officials.

Now, two days after the fight, official films of the heavyweight title match at Convention Hall support Regan and Land — with a second and a fraction to spare.

TelePrompTer, which beamed the fight on closed circuit television and produced the official film of the bout, gave a preview of the movie and later added its pronouncement: "Johansson was not down for less than ten seconds, but for more than 11."

Bosox Win, 14-6

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — The Boston Red Sox jumped on two rookie Cleveland pitchers for 10 runs in the first inning Wednesday and went on to wax the Indians, 14-6, in an exhibition baseball game.

Georgia, with its 23,800,000 acres of woodland, is the largest state east of the Mississippi River.

N.Y. Assembly Defeats Bill For Stadium

Baseball Figures Stunned By Vote

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI)—The National League's plan to expand to 10 teams in 1962 was threatened Wednesday when the New York State Assembly defeated a bill empowering New York City to build an $18-million stadium for the NL team.

The bill was rejected in the 80-58 vote that left the favoring majority 20 votes short of the necessary two-thirds approval and was greeted with stunned surprise by baseball people who had been assured that the bill would easily see its way through the state Assembly.

"This catches me by complete surprise," said baseball Commissioner Ford Frick in Phoenix, Ariz. "It makes things very difficult for the new club. I'm hoping they can get a recommendation for a new vote."

Dan Topping, co-owner of the New York Yankees who opposed the construction of the new stadium, said he was "astounded" by the vote. A spokesman for the Yankees added that the Yankees "are on record as agreeing only to the new club using the Polo Grounds." The Polo Grounds, former home of the San Francisco Giants, is scheduled to be torn down and a housing project is slated to be built on the site.

Experts on procedure in the state Legislature said it may be possible for the sponsor to call up the bill later in the session if the votes for it can be obtained.

The National League had planned to expand to a 10 - club circuit with new franchises in Houston, Tex., and New York City in 1962 and its officials assumed the bill would be passed by the state. A spokesman for Mayor Robert Wagner said he was "completely surprised" but did not indicate what the mayor's next step would be.

In Miami Beach, Fla., newly-appointed President George Weiss of the new National League club commented: "This is a situation carried on by the club prior to my joining it. I don't know enough about it to make an intelligent evaluation of the situation."

Conestoga Captures Green Valley Feature

HALLENDALE, Fla. (UPI) — Conestoga, running easily on the mile and one-sixteenth turf, pulled away from the field of 14 in the stretch Wednesday to capture the $18,250 Green Valley Handicap at Gulfstream Park.

Udaipur rallied in the final strides to finish second, two and one-half lengths behind the winner, and Merry Top 2nd was another length and one-half back in third place.

A 4-year-old son of Rough'n Tumble, Conestoga paid $18.40, $8.80 and $6.10 as he negotiated the distance in 1:41 2-5. Udaipur returned $12.10 and $7.40 and Merry Top 2nd paid $7.20.

Named Captain

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Jon Hall, a junior from Havana, Ill., has been elected captain of the University of Michigan's 1961-62 basketball team.

Ingo Relaxes In Fla. Sun

Attorneys Arrange March 23 Hearing

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Florida's inviting sunshine kept Ingemar Johansson on the beach Wednesday and the U.S. government kept him in this country.

The Swedish heavyweight boxer relaxed with his fiance, Birgit Lundgren, while his attorneys attempted to arrange for him to go home.

Johansson said he did not know when he will leave, but the government said it won't be until after March 23.

His attorneys agreed, at a conference with Mrs. Lavinia L. Redd, an assistant U.S. attorney, that Johansson will appear in Federal District Court at Miami at 2:30 p.m. (EST) that day to give depositions on matters pertaining to his taxes.

Johansson had been ordered to appear before Justice Department officials Wednesday but his attorneys were allowed to represent him, when the date of his appearance was agreed upon.

The government served Johansson with papers in the tax suit shortly after he was knocked out by Champion Floyd Patterson in the sixth round at Miami Beach Monday night.

The government is demanding $411,620 of his 1961 income in addition to $598,181 in back taxes it claims he owes for 1959 and 1960. Johansson claims he represents a Swiss corporation and hence is not subject to the tax.

Baltimore Bullets Play Moran's All-Stars Tonight

Bill Spivey Heads Eastern League Club

McDonald, Wilson Of Terps To Play In Benefit Game

Coach "Buddy" Jeannette's Baltimore Bullets, headed by the fabulous Bill Spivey, two-time University of Kentucky All-America player, come here tonight to engage Don Moran's All-Stars in a game being played for the benefit of the Allegany County League for Crippled Children and the Cumberland Dapper Dan Little League.

The contest is scheduled for SS. Peter & Paul gymnasium and will get under way at 8 o'clock.

Bob McDonald — Bob Wilson

Baltimore, occupant of second place in the Eastern Basketball League, made its last appearance here during the 1949-50 season when the Bullets whipped the Cumberland Dukes by the score of 59-57. The Bullets made their initial appearance here during the 1946-47 campaign when they eked out a 42-40 decision over Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Amvets.

Spivey Here In 1953

Spivey first came here on March 22, 1953 and turned in a sensational performance as the Detroit Vagabond Kings whipped the Old Germans at SS. Peter & Paul gym by the score of 90-72. The 265-pound, 7-foot tall "dunking" specialist slammed in 16 field goals and a total of 35 points in that game. Doug Atkins, 6-foot-7 All-America gridder from Tennessee, and the Magula Brothers — Mike and Steve — were also on the Detroit team. Bob Pence, who will appear with the All-Stars in tonight's game, was with the Old Germans in the 1953 contest. His teammates included George Geatz, Roy Lester, Lou Bell, Jim Clevenger, Wayne Boor and Bill Day.

Spivey is the Eastern League's greatest scorer and won the circuit's Most Valuable Player Award in 1958-59.

The Bullets' lineup for tonight's game in addition to Spivey includes Kelly Coleman, Sherman White, Willie Jones, Nick Davis, Leroy Gibson, Sam Knisley and Charley Robinson.

Terps Join All-Stars

Bob McDonald, of Landsdowne, Pa., and Bob Wilson, of Freedom, Pa., who wound up their college basketball careers this season as members of the University of Maryland team of the Atlantic Coast Conference, will join the All-Stars for tonight's battle with the Bullets. Last Saturday night McDonald played here with the College All-Stars who defeated the YMCA Varsity by the score of 105-96 in a benefit game at Allegany High School sponsored by the Cumberland Kiwanis Club. Wilson is 6-foot-10 and McDonald is 6-7.

Moran, Dave Marple and Gary Keedy, of the undefeated Old Germans of the City Basketball League, and Pence and Bob Lacko, of the Wilson Hardware Company quint of the City League, complete the All-Stars' lineup. Moran, one-time Bruce High and University of Maryland player, is on his way to the individual scoring championship of the City League for the third straight season.

William V. Keegan is the promoter of tonight's game. He announced last night that movies of the 1960 World Series will be shown after tonight's game.

Virginia Signs Two Grant-In-Aid Players

CHARLOTTESILLE, Va. (AP) — Virginia has announced the signing of two all-state football players to grants-in-aid.

The first out-of-state prospects signed by Virginia, are Charles Longley, a 6-2, 230-pound center from Baltimore, and James Haser, 6-2, 210-pound guard from New Kensington, Pa. They are expected to enter the university in September.

Busby To Coach Oriole Outfielders

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jim Busby, for 11 years one of the American League's best centerfielders, Wednesday was added to the coaching staff of the Baltimore Orioles.

The 34-year-old Busby joins Jimmie Adair, Harry (the Cat) Brecheen and Lyman Harris on Manager Paul Richards' staff.

His main duties will include outfield and base-running instruction, areas where he excelled, and assisting Brecheen with the pitching staff as a bullpen catcher.

Last season, Busby hit .258 with the Boston Red Sox and Orioles.

New Washington Stadium To Be Ready For Redskins

WASHINGTON (AP)—Washington's new $20 million stadium will be ready for football by Oct. 1 and the professional Redskins will play there on that date, it was reported Wednesday.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Redskins, said he had received assurances on the stadium from Thomas McCloskey, an executive of the main contractor.

The Washington Senators will use Griffith Stadium for baseball this season but are negotiating for use of the new stadium in 1962.

Capacity of the new plant will be 52,000 for football and 42,500 for baseball.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"Monthly fire losses have increased from $25,000,000 in 1940 to $100,000,000 in 1960. Among other factors, does this 400% increase suggest that fire loss is still a very real threat and that fire insurance must be adjusted to full value periodically to avoid a serious gap between fire loss and insurance?

First EUB nosed out Trinity Methodist for the championship.

Parsons Opens Class AA Play Against Milton

W. Va. Tournament Begins At 7:30

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia High School basketball tournament opens here Thursday night with action in the Class AA division and to hear the coaches talk defense may decide both games.

Parsons (18-6) meets Milton (20-5) in the 7:30 p.m. opener and Oceana (22-3) goes against New Martinsville (17-7) in the 9:15 nightcap.

Tournament action in Class Triple-A and Class A will start Friday with afternoon and night games.

Oceana has been tabbed the favorite because of its record but Coach Paul Greer doesn't see it that way. "Records don't mean a thing in this tournament, it's who can win the two games."

Greer credited an outstanding defense with the club's sterling record and noted he doesn't even name a starting five until he decides what defense he is going to use against a certain team.

John Allen of Milton said "defense and teamwork" got his team this far. He said the team started "jelling" toward the end of the season after a slow start.

Allen said he feels if his team can get by Parsons in the opener it can take the tournament championship home Saturday. Milton won two close one - pointers over Gauley Bridge and Clendenin in the regionals last week and it told on Allen. The 250-pound Allen said he has lost 17 pounds in the last two weeks and is now down to a trim 233.

Neil Gutshall of Parsons didn't have much to say about the defensive abilities of his team but noted "we're well balanced in scoring." Parsons has four starters averaging in the double figures.

Bill To Allow Half Milers To Lease Racing Dates

Measure Apparently Aimed At Fairgo

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Another horse racing bill that would allow a half mile track to, in effect, lease its days to a mile association for 10 years was introduced in the Maryland Legislature Wednesday.

It immediately prompted speculation it was to set up the transfer of Cumberland's 12 days and for them to be eventually taken over permanently by Bowie, Laurel and Pimlico.

Del. W. Dale Hess, D-Harford, earlier said he heard that the three mile tracks had agreed to pay $75,000 annually for 10 years to acquire Cumberland's days.

The bill by Del. Harry J. McGuirk, D-Balto 6th, would give the State Racing Commission power to approve a half mile's days to be staged at a mile track.

Lawyers in the legislature said a leasing arrangement conceivably could mean a tax saving as against a straight cash transaction for purchase of Cumberland.

After 10 years of operation at a mile track, a half mile association's 12 days would be forfeited. The Racing Commission then would reassign them either to other half mile or mile associations.

The McGuirk bill also would grant the Racing Commission authority to approve transfer of a half miler's days after outright purchase by the three milers.

The bill is the fourth measure relating to transfer of racing days introduced in the legislature. All of them will be given a hearing Thursday afternoon.

Two of them would specifically limit the transfer of half mile racing days to other minor thoroughbred tracks or a harness association.

In back of one of them is a reported intention to seek 36 nights of thoroughbred racing at Baltimore Raceway, an existing harness plant.

Skuse Aboard Four Winners

LINCOLN, R. I. (UPI) — Bill Skuse rode four winners at Lincoln Downs Wednesday, including Leo's Baker in the featured 7th race.

Skuse started his streak in the first race aboard Lynn's Birthday ($20.80), and continued with Roman Hope ($6.40) in the third, Joyful Begga ($6.60) in the sixth and finally Leo's Baker.

NBA Playoff Games To Be Televised

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two games of the National Basketball Association playoffs will be nationally televised by NBC-TV, it was announced Wednesday.

The first contest on March 18 will be either the fourth game of the quarter-final playoff between Los Angeles and Detroit, or the opening game of the semi final series between either the Lakers or Pistons, and the St. Louis Hawks.

On March 19, NBC will televise a game between the Philadelphia Warriors and Syracuse Nationals, or, if that series is completed, between the quarter-final winner and the Boston Celtics.

Gets Top Weight

BOWIE, Md. (UPI) — Calumet Farm's Yorky, winner of the Widener, McLennan and Royal Palm handicaps at Hialeah this winter, has been assigned top-weight of 126 pounds for the $100,000 John B. Campbell at Bowie on March 25.

Connolly Is Captain

HAMILTON, N. Y. (UPI) — Terry Connolly, junior goalie from White Bear Lake, Minn., will captain the 1961-1962 Colgate University hockey team. He has tended goal for all 40 games Colgate has played in since the sport was revived here in 1959.

Bruce Wins Audience Sportsmanship Trophy

Cops Honor For Fourth Time

Bruce High School was awarded the Audience Sportsmanship Trophy for the fourth year after ballots were tabulated Tuesday night at a meeting of the Allegany County Sportsmanship Commission at Mt. Savage High School.

The Westernport school, recipient of the trophy in 1956, 1958 and 1959, will be given the award at an assembly sometime in April. At this time the president of Valley High School's Student Council will present the trophy to the head of the Bruce High Student Council. Valley was winner of the award last season.

Bruce polled a total of 132 points in the balloting with three other schools also garnering 100 or more points for the season.

Approximately 60 high school students were judges in the 1960-61 basketball season with each of the county's schools being rated in 10 different games.

Such aspects of good sportsmanship as audience reaction to officials, reaction to visiting teams, use of good or poor language, rough-house tactics, running or standing in aisles, obstruction of view, cheering, and throwing of objects were ruled upon during the year.

The scores were tabulated Tuesday night at Mt. Savage with Bruce's Class B champions capturing the sportsmanship award.

The sportsmanship commission was organized in 1955 with the primary purpose of promoting good sportsmanship at athletic events and to award a trophy to the school for a period of one year for showing the best brand of sportsmanship.

Previous winners were Bruce in 1956; Beall in 1957; Bruce and Valley (shared title) in 1958; Bruce in 1959 and Valley in 1960.

Officers of the commission are Tommy Kooken, Bruce High, president; Gerald Snelson, Beall High, vice president; Linda Lewis, Allegany High, corresponding secretary; Peggy Hitt, Bruce High, recording secretary; William J. Faherty, Allegany High, faculty advisor; and Leona Miller, Valley High, treasurer.

CINCINNATI, BANKING ON MOUND YOUTH, FINE OUTFIELD HAS INFIELD PROBLEMS BUT CLUB SHOULD PROVE STRONGER

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major league teams. Others will follow on this page.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor

TAMPA, Fla. — Freddie Hutchinson made five trips north during the winter from his Bradenton, Fla., home for baseball meetings and gatherings and he'd like to move five notches up the ladder with his Cincinnati Reds this year.

Fred is optimistic that the Reds will improve over last year, a sixth-place finish in a season he labels as "lousy."

"We never did just get together last year," he said in the Reds' clubhouse here, "although we had one stretch in May when we looked like a major league team.

"This is a darned good league," he added, "and we sure have our job cut out for us to move up and we know it. But there's no reason why we should be pessimistic.

Have Young Club

"We've got a young club, the oldest guy on the pitching staff is 27 and the oldest man in our infield is 29. Most of them are in the 21-age group.

"I'd say," continued Fred, "we have a very good young pitching staff, very adequate power and a fine outfield with solid thumpers in Vada Pinson, Gus Bell, Wally Post and Frank Robinson."

"Our problems," Fred pointed out, "may be in the infield at short and second but I think we will be all right. We have Eddie Kasko, a much improved ball player last year; Leo Cardenas at short and we also have Jim Baumer and Elio Chacon. We could use Kasko at second."

Baumer Could Be Key

Baumer could be the key. He's a 10-year man in the minors, formerly with the White Sox and Pirate chain, who is getting his first big chance at making the major league grade even though he drew a $42,000 bonus from the White Sox.

While Robinson, the hard-hitting outfielder who got into that recent gun scrape in Cincinnati, could play first, the Reds hope that the minor league phenom, Gordon Coleman, who came up late last year, will earn the job and keep it. Hutch says Robinson is a better outfielder than first baseman, actually the "best left fielder in the league."

"We were a little worried about Coleman last year," added Hutch, "but he overcame any weaknesses he had and he's vastly improved."

The Reds' pitchers have good equipment, headed by Bob Purkey, a 17-game winner last year. Jay Hook and Jim O'Toole, who, between them, won 23 games for the Reds last year, could be the real stoppers and, according to Hutch, "if they continue to improve like they did last year I'll be extremely happy."

The Red pitching staff also features such as Jim Brosnan, the author; Orlando Pena and Claude Osteen with Jim Maloney, who won two for the Reds last year after copping 14 for Nasnville, as the real sleeper.

Hutch believes that Joey Jay, the former bonus beauty of the Braves who was 9-8 with that club last year, could really sprout with the Reds.

Joey Jay With Reds

"He had a tough go with the Braves," explained Hutch, "for he had to make good every day with that pitching staff. I think we'll take a lot of pressure off him here and if he gets belted around we'll throw him back in there, not bench him."

Among the many new pitchers in camp are Zack Monroe from the Yanks; Ray Rippelmeyer, who won 16 for Seatle; Ken Hunt, who is on the Indianapolis roster but who had a 16-6 mark with Columbia last year, and Johnny Briggs, formerly with the Indians.

With Coleman at first are Rogelio Alvarez, who was with Jersey City last year, and Fred Hopke, who split the season with Buffalo and Seattle.

Rounding out the infield is Gene Freese, third baseman from the White Sox, who will share the duties with Willie Jones.

Ed Bailey is the solid one behind the plate, with Hal Bevan, a former infielder, and Jerry Zimmerman, both from Seatle, as fill-ins.

Get Outfield Help

Outfield help includes Harry Anderson, formerly with the Phils; Jerry Lynch and Joe Gaines.

The Reds have a new trainer for calisthenics, replacing Terry Brennan. He is Otis Douglas, a former football coach and pro football scout. The usual trap-shooting gimmick is part of the training spiel as well.

RATING THE REDS

Young pitching staff, problem at second and short, good power and a fine outfield, the Reds should improve on their sixth-place finish of last year.

Yankees Switch Hotels In Miami

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) —The New York Yankees said Wednesday they have changed hotels in Miami, where they played this weekend, so that all players, including four Negroes, can be housed under one roof.

The Biscayne Terrace offered accommodations to the Negroes—Elston Howard, Hector Lopez, Pedro Gonzales and Jesse Gonder.

The Bureau of Fisheries says that the dolphin and carp can outswim the fastest vessels.

Late Rally Sends Stock Prices To Higher Ground

NEW YORK (UPI) — A late rally centering on steels, defense issues and bowling shares pushed stocks into higher ground Wednesday after a session of generally indecisive price movements.

Volume for the second consecutive session failed to cross the 5-million-share mark but still totaled a robust 4,900,000 shares—unchanged from Tuesday.

The late buying flurry carried the Dow-Jones industrial average up to 662.88 at the close for a net gain of 1.80, thanks largely to gains of a point in U.S. Steel, 1¼ in Procter & Gamble, ⅞ in Chrysler and Anaconda and 1½ in Union Carbide. Owens Illinois Glass, down 1¾, was among the exceptions.

Rails put a damper on the rise, closing at 142.09 off 0.24 in the averages. Losses were mostly minor fractions with the exception of Kansas City Southern which shed ¾. Utilities at 109.21 were up 0.20, reflecting a 2⅛-point advance in Public Service Electric & Gas, and were able to post a new 31-year high.

The market was the narrowest since Jan. 26 with 1,258 issues crossing the tape, of which 623 advanced, 58 to new highs, and 457 declined, three setting new lows.

Cards of Thanks

We wish to express our appreciation to neighbors and our many friends who were so kind to us during the illness and following the death of our wife and mother, Anna Roney Good. The beautiful floral tributes and expressions of sympathy will be remembered with deepest gratitude.

THIS FELLOW DOESN'T NEED ANYTHING

. . . But you probably do! Chances are there are a dozen things you could use a want ad for that you have just been putting off.

Now you can buy a business and hire some help for the cost of one ad . . . or sell your business and buy a boat, or any one of a hundred things.

Thru Tomorrow: Friday, March 17th, 5 P.M. place an ad for from 1 to 30-days and get one free, just as large and for just as many days.

STOP AT OUR OFFICE ON BALTIMORE ST.

OR PHONE: WANT ADS, PA 2-4600

To Dig Andes Tunnel

NEW YORK (UPI) — Cerro Corp. and its mining subsidiary Cerro de Pasco Corp. announced they will begin work this year on an $8.4 million tunnel under the Andes Mountains of Peru. Robert P. Koenig, Cerro president said the tunnel will permit mining of extensive silver, lead and zinc ore bodies currently unworkable because of underground flooding.

Steel Output Falls

NEW YORK (UPI)—Despite an increase in mill activity total steel production dipped in February working days, the American Iron & Steel Instute reported. February output amounted to 6,223,000 tons, down from 6,416,004 in January. The calculated weekly production in February, however, rose to 1,558,000 tons from 1,448,308.

When states are added to the Union, additional stars are affixed only on the following July 4.

The first electric street railway in the United States was opened in Baltimore, Md., in 1885.

PPG Reports Earnings Best In Three Years

Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's sales during 1960 reached a new record of $627,947,000, an increase of $21,018,000 over the previous year, according to its annual report.

The company also reported to its shareholders that net earnings of $47,631,000 or $4.62 per share were the best since 1957. Net earnings for 1959 were $44,096,000 or $4.27 per share.

Also noted in the annual report to shareholders, PPG said neither sales or earnings, however, were as high as anticipated in the optimistic climate for the national economy that prevailed in January 1960.

In the glass division, of which Cumberland Works Seven is a part, the firm said sales were adversely affected by the continuing flow of imports facilitated by low tariff rates. According to the company, in the first nine months of 1960, importations of sheet glass were equivalent to 33 per cent of United States production.

The firm also announced its policy of control programs have resulted in the good control of manufacturing and selling costs. Expenditures for research and development also were increased in 1960, according to the annual report.

Moose Select Officers

Russell L. Minnicks, Greene Street, was nominated for re-election as governor of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, last night and since he is unopposed, will be installed at the next meeting, May 3.

Nominated without opposition to serve with him are Herman Lewis, Holland Street, junior governor; Albert Brant, St. Mary's Avenue, prelate; George Thomas, Lee Street, secretary-treasurer; and Joseph McFarland, Carroll Street, three-year trustee.

Representative to the Supreme Lodge convention in Memphis, Tenn., June 19, will be Russell Minnicks, with Arthur Gellner as alternate.

Members of the Moose, cooperating in the sale of Easter Lilies for the benefit of the League for Crippled Children, will solicit funds on Baltimore Street April 1. Mr. McFarland and Mr. Gellner are co-chairmen for this activity.

Electrical Worker Nabbed By Deputies

William C. Bohannon, 33, of Winston Salem, N.C., who was arrested yesterday afternoon at Luke by deputies of the sheriff's office of Allegany County, is being held for the sheriff at Winston Salem.

Bohannon, said authorities, was arrested on a charge of alleged non-support and was taken into custody by Deputies George B. Staup and George M. Harris shortly after he finished work at Luke where he is employed by the R.A.O. Electrical Company.

Permit Referred To Zoning Board

The City Engineering Department yesterday referred to the Board of Zoning Appeals an occupancy permit for use of a building as a business property in a residential zone.

The permit was sought by John A. Daugherty, 329 Fayette Street, who asked to use a building formerly occupied as a garage at the rear of 329 Fayette Street for a window repair and glazing shop under the name Daugherty Glass Shop.

It is beleived that the art of knitting originated in Scotland about the beginning of the 16th century.

City Firemen Get Two Calls

City firemen yesterday afternoon answered two calls.

At 3:40 p.m. firemen from Central station went to the vicinity of 436 North Mechanic Street when an auto belonging to Luther Cox, 518 Maryland Avenue, caught fire.

They said the flames were confined to the area of the motor and the fire was probably caused by a short circuit under the hood. Wiring and rubber hosing was damaged by the fire, extinguished by water from a booster line and an extinguisher.

East Side firemen received a call at 3:17 p.m. when a brush fire was reported in the vicinity of Dorn Avenue. However it was out on arrival.

Clinic Situation

by obtaining the services for two full days a month, of resident physicians at Johns Hopkins Hospital who are specializing in the field of obstetrics.

"The possibility of future resignations on the part of local physicians has been considered serious enough," Dr. van Strien said, "to prompt the health officer to ask for the addition of a full time clinician to his staff in his budget request."

The request was denied at the recent budget hearing of the Allegany County Commissioners.

Social Security Is Outlined To Agency Group

Walter Campbell, manager of the district office of the Social Security Administration here outlined the purposes and program of Social Security yesterday at noon at a meeting of the heads of social agencies of the county in the Fort Cumberland Hotel.

Allegany County Social Workers Group meets for luncheon and discussion the third Wednesday of each month. At each meeting, a member outlines the duties and responsibilities of his agency and explains how cases should be referred to his area, and how his agency makes referrals to other agencies.

Mr. Campbell said the local office is actually a district headquarters serving the residents of six counties—Allegany and Garrett in Maryland, and Grant, Hampshire, Hardy and Mineral in West Virginia. Two field representatives travel into these areas to assist residents with their Social Security problems.

The office has a staff of 12 persons including the field men and the district manager, and is located at 6 Pershing Street.

Mr. Campbell told the social workers that Social Security here represents one of the area's largest payrolls. Over $10,000,000 annually is paid to beneficiaries and recipients, including retired workers, auxiliary beneficiaries, dependents and permanently disabled. Of this total about $6,000,000 is paid in benefits to Allegany County residents.

The Social Security or Old Age and Survivor law has been changed frequently, and each change, he said, broadens the scope, benefits more people and creates an additional case load and work load in each office. He said the Cumberland office has a high rating in the administration and is regarded in many sections as a stepping-stone to promotions. There have been five managers here in the last 30 months, each of whom by choice has moved on to a better position. Mr. Campbell said he likes Cumberland and is thinking of staying here "in terms of at least five years."

Samuel Weston, chairman of the group, presided. He noted that a special program with a speaker from outside the group is to feature the meeting next month.

Reunion Committee Will Map Plans

A committee which is making plans for a reunion of the Class of 1951 of local Catholic high schools will meet on Tuesday, March 22 at 8 p. m. at Cas Taylor's Restaurant, North Mechanic Street.

Included are those who graduated that year from Catholic Girls Central, LaSalle, St. Mary's and Ursuline Academy.

The tenth anniversary dinner-dance reunion will be held at the Cumberland Country Club July 29. All members who have not done so are requested to return their questionnaires and reservations as soon as possible.

St. Patrick's Day

were working day and night to clean up the local streets clogged with mud and debris.

Governor Harry W. Nice arrived here by auto on March 20 to make an inspection tour of the flooded area. Two days later a detachment of 25 Maryland State Police troopers arrived in the Queen City to take over duties of Company B, Maryland National Guard, Hagerstown, which had patrolled the local streets since March 18.

Plans to end floods in Cumberland and the Potomac Valley began to develope on the 21st of March when Arthur E. Hungerford, federal emergency relief administration for Maryland, a representative of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, met here to reveal the program.

Emergency Measures

A bank holiday which had been declared as a result of the flood was later lifted by order of the governor and recommendations for the procedure to be taken in rehabilitation of homes and business places in and near Cumberland were made March 24 at a conference of government, state and local officials at the governor's office in Annapolis.

Within a week or so after the devastating flood, telephone service, railroad service, and local business was getting back to normal.

Today Cumberland is well protected by the flood control project which was dedicated on May 9, 1959 after the project was completed over a ten year period at a cost of $18,000,000.

Also, this valley is protected by the huge earthen Savage River Dam located about 4.5 miles above Bloomington. The huge embankment was completed in May 1950 and the accessories including hydraulic equipment and spillway the following year.

The Japanese empire was founded in 660 B. C. by Jimmu Tenno, legendary descendant of the Sun goddess.

House Measure Would Limit Liquor Licenses

Denial Planned For Chain Stores

A bill to prohibit the issuance of liquor licenses to chain stores and super markets within Allegany County was one of three new delegation bills introduced in the House of Delegates yesterday under a suspension of rules, according to Delegate Fred B. Driscoll, the delegation chairman.

This liquor license measure has been designated as House Bill 920. Delegate Driscoll said that this prohibition does not involve the sale of beer and wine. It simply would insure that no chain store or supermarket in Allegany County could become a package liquor store.

The delegation's bill to empower the State Game and Inland antlerless deer seasons in Allegany County under certain circumstances, also introduced yesterday, has been designated as House Bill 912.

LaVale Bill

A LaVale measure on which the delegation has taken no action was the third bill introduced yesterday by the delegation. House Bill 919 would increase the bonded indebtedness limit of the LaVale Sanitary Commission from 10 per cent to 25 per cent of the assessed valuation in Election District 29.

Mr. Driscoll explained that this House Bill 919 was introduced at the request of the LaVale Civic Improvement Association. He said the delegation has taken no action for or against this proposal but simply introduced it at the request of the improvement association.

The delegation chairman also reported last night from Annapolis that Senate Bills 374,376 and 390, all introduced some time ago by Senator Charles M. See and passed in the State Senate, were enacted yesterday by the House of Delegates. All they need now is the signature of Governor J. Millard Tawes to become law.

Charities Benefit

Probably the greatest public interest centers around SB 390. This increases from $7,000 to $8,000 the amount that the Allegany County commissioners are authorized to levy for charities.

The effect of SB 390 is to limit the discretionary power of the county commissioners in dividing the funds. Under the present measure only $4,900 of the $7,000 is earmarked for specific charities. SB 390 specifies how all but $200 of the $8,000 may be spent.

The only new beneficiary is the Allegany County Historical Society, listed for $1,000. The County United Fund gains $1,800 more than the $600 earmarked for the old Community Chest under the old charity measure. There still is a provision for $600 for the Red Cross, which now is a part of the County United Fund. The Allegany County Rheumatic Fever and Heart Association is assured of $600, or $100 more than was guaranteed under the old bill.

Other Changes

This charity bill also limits the Allegany County League for Crippled Children. The former legislation provided that the league should receive at least $1,000 from the county commissioners. The words "at least" are removed by SB 390, thereby limiting the league to $1,000.

Left unchanged by the SB 390 are the Allegany County Cancer Society, the Allegany County branch of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, both assured of $600, and Friends Aware of Handicapped Children and the Allegany-Garrett Tuberculosis Association, both down for $500.

SB 374, also enacted yesterday by the House of Delegates, raises from $1,000 to $1,500 the amount the Allegany County commissioners may contract for in public improvements without advertising for bids.

SB 376, also enacted by the House of Delegates, provides that any trial magistrate in Allegany County, including the substitute magistrate, may perform the duties of the magistrate for juvenile causes when the latter is absent or ill. Present law limits his replacements to the trial magistrates for Cumberland.

COLLECTION DAY TODAY

25 Years Ago

This was North Mechanic Street as the flood waters receded on the day after the great St. Patrick's Day flood of 1936. It was just 25 years ago tomorrow that Wills Creek and the Potomac River left their banks after heavy rains and a quick thaw in the mountains. Water reached higher than the heads of the people shown in this photo. The view looks toward Baltimore Street, with the Wilson Hardware Company in the right foreground.

St. Patrick's Day Flood Hit City 25 Years Ago

By CHARLES H. KELLY
News Staff Writer

"Rain and colder tonight and Tuesday changing to snow in extreme west portion Tuesday."

A typical pre-spring forecast was the weather outlook on Monday, March 16, 1936, a quarter of a century ago today.

Local politicians were discussing the city election scheduled the following day; the Irish were looking forward to celebrating St. Patrick's Day and everyone was thinking about spring's arrival on Friday that week.

No one apparently was aware of an impending flood which was to share the headlines the next day.

Many local residents today will recall the devastating flood caused when Wills Creek became a raging torrent and the Potomac River became swollen with the continued rainfall of about two and a half inches over a 24-hour period. The estimated flood damage was set at $3,000,000.

Shortly before mid-afternoon on St. Patrick's Day, 1936, flood waters began creeping into Baltimore Street by way of Liberty and Centre streets. The murky water was soon curb-high.

Thousands of dollars in damage had already been done to railroads by noon, and bus and train service was curtailed. Telephone service was disrupted during the day.

Flood Waters Rise

A steady downpour showed no let-up during the afternoon when Wills Creek reached its highest point since the floods of 1924, and work in the bottling department at the German Brewing Company ceased at 1 p. m. as water from the creek began backing up in the cellar.

At noon that day on the advice of Fire Chief Reid C. Hoenicka, merchants in the downtown business district, especially in the flood zone, began to move stock to upper floors, clearing out basements and street floors.

After a meeting of Mayor George W. Legge, County-City Health Officer Dr. Joseph P. Franklin and Mrs. A. M. Lichenstein of the Cumberland Chapter of the Red Cross, that agency was placed in charge of flood relief work.

At noon that day the Potomac River had risen seven feet in two hours at Piedmont and Westernport, and the latest report at the time was that the raging river was only three feet below the floor of the Luke bridge.

Communities along Georges Creek were faced with the problem of high water.

Store stocks and fixtures here were carried away and dozens of plate glass windows were crushed under pressure of the mad waters.

Raliroad losses were heavy and freight cars were derailed as tracks were washed away. The waters began to recede late in the night March 18 and early the next day.

"Cumberland's Worst Flood Paralyzes Downtown Shops" met the eye of the newspaper reader on March 18 when it was reported the city was buried under tons of mud and debris.

The Cleanup Begins

Potomac Basin Meeting Due At Moorefield

Cooperative Planning For The South Branch will be the theme of the two-day spring meeting of the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin to be held May 18 and 19 at Moorefield, W. Va.

About 150 representatives of four states — West Virginia, Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania and the District of Columbia — are expected to attend the two-day meeting.

Plans for the affair were made last Friday at a meeting at the Hotel McNeill, Moorefield.

Sessions will be held in the Moorefield Fire Hall. Representatives from the Army Corps of Engineers and the U. S. Soil Conservation Service will be present to advise on plans and progress of present work. Also to be represented will be the National Forest Service, the West Virginia Water Commission, the Soil Conservation districts, the Conservation Commission, the Agriculture Department and the office of West Virginia Governor Wallace W. Barron.

A luncheon will be served at noon Thursday, May 18, by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Moorefield Volunteer Fire Company. A barbecue will be held Friday, May 19, on the inspection tour. This tour will go up the South Fork to see the Soil Conservation Service flood prevention dams, the Naval Radio Research Station at Sugar Grove, W. Va. The return trip to Moorefield will be via Franklin and Petersburg. The Royal Glen proposed dam site will be inspected by the Corps of Engineers.

Former West Virginia Senator Ralph Bean will introduce Governor Barron's party at the Thursday luncheon. He also will be one of the moderators at the Thursday afternoon session.

Man Is Jailed For Assault

A local man yesterday was found guilty of assaulting a local woman and was given a one-year suspended term in the House of Correction, was fined $100 and was ordered to pay over $900 in medical and hospital expenses.

The man, William Clair, of 211 Bedford Street, pleaded guilty to assaulting Mrs. Ruth Seifers, 308 Columbia Avenue, at a hearing yesterday morning in Trial Magistrate Court before Magistrate F. Allan Weatherholt.

Magistrate Weatherholt suspended the jail sentence on condition Clair ban himself from the state for two years. Clair also was ordered committed to the County Jail for 30 days in default of the $100 fine.

The magistrate also ordered Clair to make restitution of $967 for hospital and medical expenses to Mrs. Seifers for injuries sustained in the assault.

Mrs. Seifers testified yesterday the assault took place February 4 in a residence on North Centre Street, and that she was hospitalized until February 22.

As a result of yesterday's hearing, Magistrate Weatherholt issued a disorderly conduct warrant against the occupants of the house where the assault took place.

Clinic Situation Shows Slight Improvement

Health Officer Says Clinician Needed

The clinic situation in Allegany County has slightly improved in the last year, although clinician coverage has become increasingly difficult, according to Dr. Ton van Strien, deputy state health officer for the county.

Some of the improvements include a new health center in South Cumberland, developed with the help and support of the South Cumberland Lay Health Group, the South Cumberland Business Men's Association and the County United Fund; a new maternity clinic is being organized in the Frostburg Health Center and that center began in February to cover an increased area including Eckhart and Mt. Savage.

The number of maternity clinics has increased from 24 in 1957 to 47 in 1960; extra polio clinics are planned this spring in Westernport, Lonaconing, Oldtown and Mt. Savage. Frostburg has initiated a monthly clinic and Cumberland has started an extra clinic weekly. The possibility of more eye clinic services is being explored and a series of well baby-nurses health conferences will be organized.

"The foremost problem that has often plagued the department, Dr. van Strien said, has been the resignation of some of the clinic physicians who due to the pressure of private practice are compelled either to discontinue all services or to regulate the time they can make available to the clinics.

"During the past two years, one of the three clinics in Westernport closed, one in Ellerslie and one in the South Cumberland area were discontinued. In the South Cumberland area, consolidation proved the only answer. The new clinics in Barton and McCoole made it possible to continue the two monthly clinics for Westernport.

"In regard to the prenatal clinics the resignation of one physician who had been holding two monthly clinics was solved

ABL Motor Scores For Sixth Time

For the sixth straight time, an Allegany Ballistics Laboratory motor yesterday performed successfully in an A-2 Polaris missile firing. The Navy's "second generation" Polaris missile zipped 1,600 miles registering its third success in two weeks and its sixth in seven launchings.

Yesterday's pad-launched development firing brought the ABL score on the A-2 Polaris to six successful flights for six attempts. Four of the flights were pad-launched and two were tube-launched from a ship at sea.

Navy officials announced the 31-foot, solid fuel Polaris achieved all test goals on the 15-minute flight from Cape Canaveral down the Atlantic tracking range. The A-2 model is being developed to strike enemy taregts up to 1,725 miles away.

The motor used in the missile was developed and produced at ABL, operated by Hercules Powder Company for the U.S. Bureau of Navy Weapons.

Hercules has pioneered in the field of propulsion units for missiles and rockets since before World War II, when the company started work with the National Defense Research Council on rocket propellants. To that task, Hercules brought know-how based on research and experience as a manufacturer of double-base propellants since the company's beginning in 1913.

Two Insurance Bids Involve $7,455

The two insurance bids awarded Tuesday by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners involve a total of $8,064.55.

The Woodrow W. Gurley Insurance Agency, 123 South Liberty Street, was awarded the general comprehensive liability for $4,524.52 and automobile fleet liability and property coverage for $2,364.52 or a total of $6,889.04.

The Beall Insurance Agency, Frostburg, was awarded the all-risk equipment floater on a low bid of $1,175.51. The Beall bid on the liability policy totaled $7,455.17 or $566.13 more than the Gurley proposal.

Mayor Cites Major Needs At Airport

12 More Hangars Will Be Sought

The pressing need for additional hangars and for the resurfacing of the runways and taxi strips at the Cumberland Municipal Airport was reported yesterday by Mayor J. Edwin Keech.

The report was issued after Mayor Keech and City Engineer C. R. Nuzum inspected the airport yesterday afternoon with John Nash, operator of the city-owned facility.

Mayor Keech said there is an urgent demand for 12 additional hangars. All of the existing 21 hangars are rented, he said, and planes are standing in the open for lack of shelter.

To Inspect Units

He said he is contacting a firm which builds aluminum hangar buildings, and plans to inspect the units with Mr. Nuzum as soon as arrangements can be made.

The mayor estimated $25,000 would be needed to erect the hangars.

He said it has been suggested that the best way to finance the hangars would be to add $25,000 to a proposed $300,000 street construction and rehabilitation bond issue.

Revenue from the hangars, he said, could be used to help retire the street bonds.

The next pressing demand, Mayor Keech said, is for the resurfacing of the runways. This also would be a bond issue program.

He said the surfacing laid 20 years ago is getting beyond patching, and that a new surface must be laid now or in the near future. The alternative, he said, is to let the airport "go to pot."

He said the city is checking with Rudolph A. Drennan, director of the State Aviation Commission, on the possibility of securing federal aid for the work estimated to cost from $100,000 to $200,000.

Traffic Increases

He said Arthur B. Gibson, city auditor, advised yesterday that at the last $90,000 of a $300,000 bond issue sold to finance the city's share of the port will be retired at the end of this year. The bonds were issued to match a $3,000,000 federal contribution.

The airport, he said, is handling five times the traffic it had several years ago, and is being used by twin-engine planes of the Celanese, Kelly, Allegany Instrument, Allegany Ballistics and National Jet plants, and is regularly used by State of West Virginia planes.

Work slated this spring includes blacktopping in front of the administration building and a tar and chip treatment and grading of the road behind the hangars.

He said the administration building was painted and renovated recently and is in good shape.

The city, he said, has not given up efforts to secure commercial plane services for Cumberland, and is confident the service will be provided as industrial plants expand.

Registration For First Graders Starts Today

Parents of all Allegany County children who will enter the first grade in September are urged to take advantage of the spring registration today and tomorrow, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel.

Registration will be conducted in all public schools of the county from 3:30 until 5 p. m. today and Friday. All principals have been urged to make a complete canvass of the areas they serve.

All children whose sixth birthday falls on or before December 31, 1961, or earlier will be eligible for enrollment in September.

Trial Set Next Week In Forgery

Bernard C. Bucy Faces Charges

Bernard C. Bucy, 38, of 111 Main Street, Ridgeley, will be tried next week in Allegany County Circuit Court on criminal information on a forgery charge.

Assistant State's Attorney Donald W. Mason filed the criminal information yesterday and Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris set the date for the trial for next Thursday at 10 a.m.

Bucy was arrested several weeks ago and was ordered held for action of the April term of the grand jury at a preliminary hearing March 7 in Trial Magistrate Court.

The Ridgeley man has been charged with forging a check on February 18 for $12.30 in the name of F. P. Montgomery. The check was cashed at a local liquor store and was drawn on the First National Bank.

Mr. Mason said Bucy also will be tried next Thursday on a bench warrant for violation of parole.

In July 1958 Bucy was given a five-year suspended sentence for grand larceny in Allegany County Circuit Court. Mr. Mason said Bucy faces charges of not carrying out the terms of his parole in that case.

Bucy is being held in the County Jail in default of $500 bond.

Superintendent At Sugar Grove Fatally Injured

SUGAR GROVE, W. Va. (AP)—Charles O. Edmonds, field construction superintendent at the giant Naval telescope site here, was struck and killed Wednesday by a wooden roof blown off a lean-to covering supplies.

Edmonds, 58, was knocked into a drainage ditch by the roof which was flipped off by a gust of wind. He died of a head injury.

Edmonds was chief of field construction for the American Bridge Division of U.S. Steel at the site of the Naval Radio Research Station.

He was standing near his office in the steel marshalling area, about ¼ mile from the base of the telescope.

The engineer had worked on high steel structures across the country for American Bridge, his employer for 39 years. He came here in 1959 from the Carquines Straights Bridge near Corckett, Calif., and had replaced the Illinois Central Bridge at Cairo, Ill.

American Bridge had picked him to head construction of the giant telescope, which will have 19,000 tons of steel in it and be the largest movable steel structure ever made.

He is a native of Grand Haven, Mich.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Beatrice Edmonds. The Edmonds had lived at Franklin, W. Va., while he worked at the telescope.

Spaghetti Supper Planned By KC

Chief Justice Taney General Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus, will sponsor a spaghetti supper Sunday from 3 p.m. to 7 p.m. at St. Mary's hall.

Norman Fearnow and Joseph Webb, co-chairmen, said the meal will be served by the LaSalle Mothers Club. John Kreidler is faithful navigator.

Md. Assembly Delays Action On Two Bills

Reapportionment, Insurance Held Up

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Legislative reapportionment and limitation on insurance risks ran into delaying actions in the Maryland General Assembly Wednesday.

A bill to increase the number of delegates from 123 to 144, being pushed vigorously by Gov. Tawes, gained a 19-11 favorable report by the House Judiciary Committee.

It was brought promptly to the floor, but progress was stalled at least until Thursday by use of a parliamentary rule.

Senate action on a House-approved bill to restrict insurance on savings and loan deposits was put off until Monday night. It was done at the request of Sen. Winship Wheatley, D-Prince Georges, who wants to try to impose the limitation without exemption on June 1.

The House gave existing insurance companies two years to comply. Only one Maryland company presently in operation, the Security Financial Insurance Corp., would be affected by the bill.

Lowe Stops Bill

Del. Thomas H. Lowe, D-Talbot, flashed the red light on reapportionment. Eastern Shore legislators from the hard core of opposition to revising representation in the General Assembly.

When the Judiciary Committee's favorable report hit the floor, Lowe quickly offered an amendment. He then invoked an automatic rule that consideration be put off for a day.

Lowe's amendment would reduce Baltimore City to one senator. It now has six.

The bill up for consideration makes no change in the number of 29 senators.

All signs pointed to ultimate passage of the reapportionment bill by the House this session.

It will benefit two districts in Baltimore City and nine of the 23 counties.

Baltimore County would gain four delegates for a total of 10. Montgomery and Prince Georges would go from six to nine, Anne Arundel, the 3rd and 5th Districts of Baltimore from six to eight, and St. Marys, Charles, Harford, Cecil and Howard each would be given an additional delegate.

St. Marys, Charles and Howard now have two delegates, Cecil three and Harford four.

Del. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Harford, author of the insurance risk bill, expressed fear that a Senate amendment "could very well kill the bill, notwithstanding the good intentions of individual members of the Senate."

May Be Lost

Tydings said any benefits accomplished by the amendment would be inconsequential in comparison with the danger of losing the bill in the last-minute adjournment rush.

The bill would require companies insuring savings and loan associations to have 10 times in assets the amount it insures under any one policy.

The bill came before the Senate Wednesday with a favorable report from the Banking and Insurance Committee. Sen. Wheatley, asked to hold up action "to see what chance I have of getting the house amendment changed."

Afterward he told newsmen he thinks one year would be ample time for companies to comply with the new law.

There was no discussion before the Senate accepted Wheatley's motion.

The Senate also put off action on another measure on second reading, a bill to create 608 new state scholarships and create a State Scholarship Board to administer them and any federal grants. Sen. Harry T. Phoebus, D-Somerset, asked for a delay so he could check on any possible conflict with existing scholarships.

The House did clear one argumentative measure to require Maryland employers to pay a minimum hourly wage of $1. This is the same that employers engaged in interstate commerce must pay under federal law.
